Theme

The theme of the ACADEMY HERALD for this year is Gould's mascot, the Husky. We have decided that our mascot should help the readers of the HERALD see what life at Gould looks like through the eyes of a Husky.

Up to the early 1940's Gould had no mascot. The students began to request one as Gould was one of the few schools without a mascot. The next year, 1942, a committee from the Student Council made a study of colleges and universities and their mascots. In 1943 the Student Council drew up a list of mascots to be voted on by the student body. The Crane sisters from Mattawasket, New Hampshire had a proposal for Gould: if Gould voted for the Husky as a mascot, Mr. Crane would secure two Huskies from the famous Chinook Kennels for Gould.

The school voted for the Husky; Gould got the two dogs. The Huskies were kept on chains down by the tennis courts. When the dogs first came to Gould everyone was willing to care for them. The dogs did present a problem, though: very few people slept at night. The dogs howled at the moon, night watchman and any strange noises.

Finally, the school had to give the dogs back to the Chinook Kennels at the end of the 1944 school year. Very few people wanted to care for the dogs at the end of the year. One of the dogs was later the lead dog on an Arctic expedition.

The Husky is a large working dog used mostly for Arctic and Antarctic expeditions. They are usually black and white with either brown or blue eyes. The blue eyes protect them against the glaring snow. They are one of the oldest domesticated dogs, coming from Siberia. The Husky can be easily trained and makes a wonderful pet.

Junior Class

The illustrious class of 1966, which professes to be the largest, elected as its officers the following:

President -- Mike Chretien
 Vice President -- Doug Boynton
 Secretary -- Martha Laws
 Treasurer -- John Lombard
 S. A. C. Representative -- Brian Buck

As this renowned class continues to romp through the halls of Gould, it leaves its mark on many organizations in areas athletic, scholastic, or just plain interesting. We possess many potential world figures in the guises of club presidents, vice presidents, secretaries, and treasurers; there are several future Olympic champs hidden in our midst -- just look at Kathy Dunham and her unbelievable volleyball serves (Did you ever get it over the net, Dunham?), and Phil Martin with his nimble finger on the basketball button. We'll have stars in the movie industry -- the song and dance team of Michele Wyke and Pepper Howard, and the dramatic talents of Jonnie Lochrie and John Lombard. One can easily see that in the future the most famous lovers will be Janet Kinsley, Lucy Tallman, Jim Campbell, and Sandy Runyon.

In the field of music we abound in talent. For instance, Charlie Jacobs, Mike Jenkins, Rachel and Becky Keniston support the band, and Laurie Fisher, who portrayed the lead in "Amahl and the Night Visitors," Laura Sawyer, who played the part of Rosalie in "Carnival," and Stan McKnight are active members of the Chapman Club.

The Winter Carnival disclosed many buried skills. One example, the snowshoeing prowess of Don Ferrero and Jackie Brooks (How many times did you two say you'd been on those contraptions before?). Our greatest coordination was displayed in class basketball where we finished first, introducing talent such as that of Lannie Brown and Pete Kuzyk. Jim McBain, in charge of building the statue, used his artistic ingenuity to create a tank on which he directed every bit of the construction. (Exactly how many times a day did you explain that a real tank is supposed to be off center, Jim?) Roger Dock was a big help, as usual, when he brought in innumerable truckloads of clean, white snow from an undisclosed source. Although we lost to our arch-enemies, the seniors, everyone had a great time.

One might wonder what the world was coming to if Diane Williamson or Steve Mahler couldn't play basketball, or if Jane Howe, Russ Hunter, Jack Brooks, and Steve Moore lost all interest in skiing. Surely the football team profits from hard-hitting Allan Walker, and Ray Atwood, and speedsters Brian Buck and Lee Vail. Speaking of runners -- the long distance type -- has anyone seen--Wh-o-o-s-sh--Vaughn Damone lately? Maybe if you can catch Andy Buck between trips around the track and to Gehring Hall he'd tell you. Baseball is Neil Olson's favorite sport, and this slugger is always a hit. As in other sports, the juniors are a vital part of the ski team -- for example, Mike Bates in jumping and Jack McMillin in cross-country -- the basketball team -- Mike Chretien, Tim Hutchins, Homer Patenaude, and Ken Morse -- and the cross-country team. Boyd Lane may be small, but watch him go! But anyone would probably tell you that it is the peppy cheerleaders such as Betsy Crane, Elaine Treworgy, Chris Sanborn, Barbie Douglas, and Fifi Bean who keep the boys' blood boiling, and Donna Breault certainly is an attractive majorette at half-time. The girls, too, have an essential part in the Gould sports program: Bev Kelley, Kathy Brown, and Maryvonne Rolfe help rack up points for the archery team, while Leckie DesRoches rarely lets a hockey ball sneak by her.

In the organizations, one cannot imagine the Debating Club without Madam President Diane Burrill or the argumentative skill of Joe Pendleton. Without Sue Brown's efficiency the Camera Club would be a total wreck, wouldn't it? Larry Billings is a faithful member of the Latin Club, and cuts a dashing figure in his toga. How would the school function properly without Paul Pierce or Bob Saunders to operate the audio-visual equipment? Of course president Merry York, treasurer Brenda Sweetser, member Judy Mason and others contribute much to the F. H. A.

Finally on the social side of campus life, we can boast (?) some of the wildest minds and biggest hearts. We'd just never be the same without Joanne Monaghan and Diane Swain to tease Mary Morrill. If it's a laugh a minute you desire, try talking to Page Liberty or Sue Howe. Good examples of the male taste in fashion are Bill Donahue and Daryl Marcy. Look at Sandi Stecher to find out the latest style in earrings and at Vicki Robertson to discover the latest hair shades. (Do blondes REALLY have more fun, Vicki?) Ever ready for fun and frolic are Laura Wiley and Darrell Nichols.

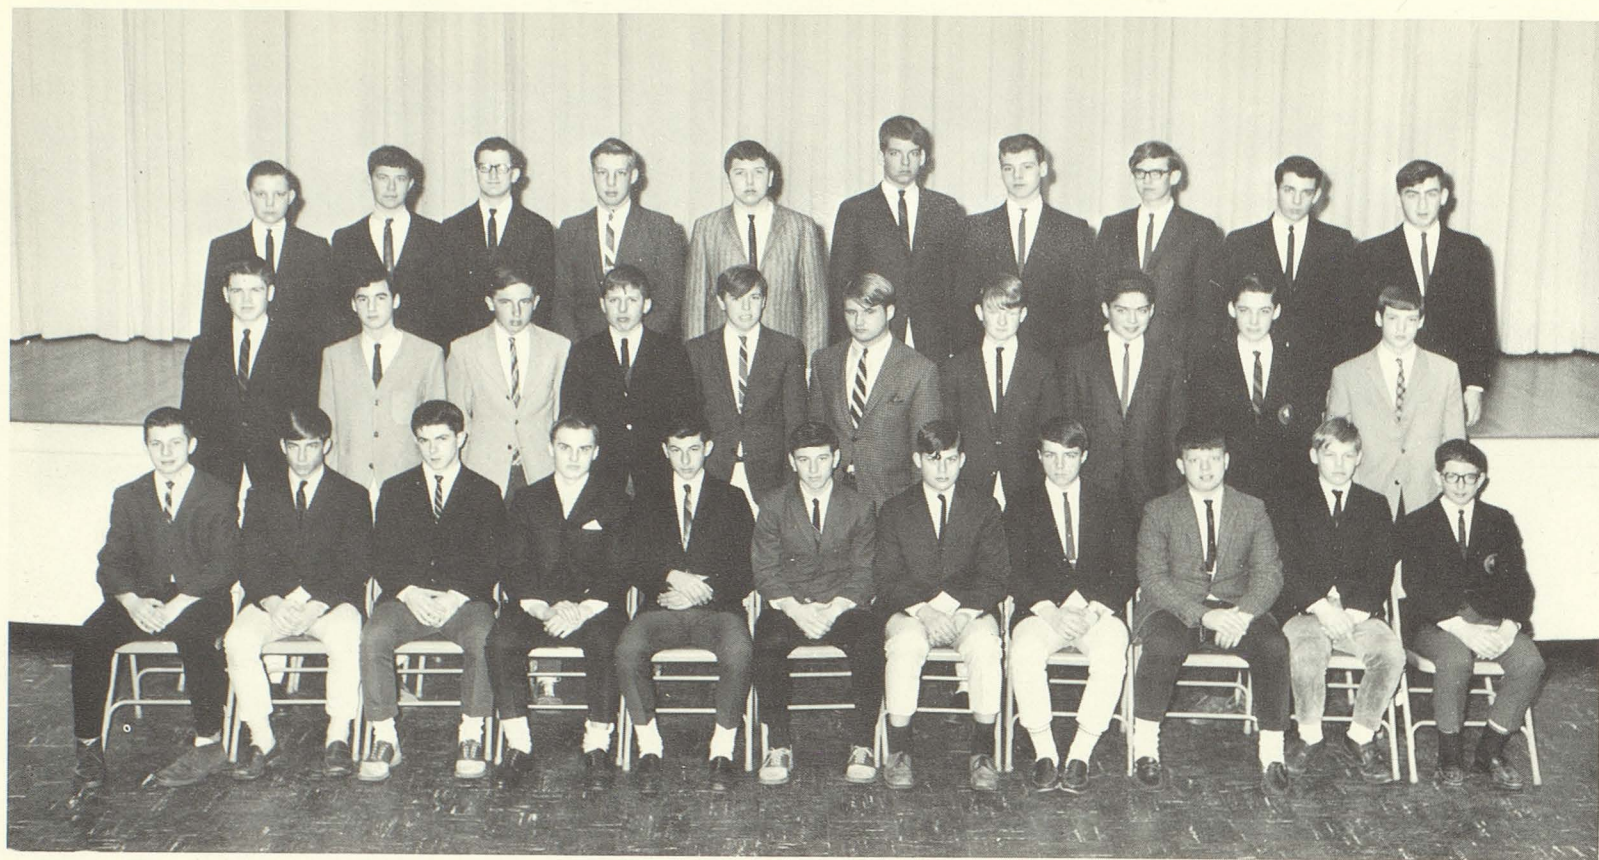

We're really quite proud to say that good taste always comes to the fore eventually, and for the tops in girls, ask Dan Davis, Glen Kimball, Dick Packard, or Barry Salway. Of course, each may cite separate examples, but, that's the breaks. Although Owen Brown works in a large store and Doug Boynton in a cubbyhole, both always greet their customers with a smile. Judging from all the mail she receives from abroad, Mary Lowell must be quite a likeable girl. Amanda Bowers is willing to listen to your problem with one ear while she prepares to match you up with a boy, or girl, as the case may be.

We, too, as every group does, have a few who are rather quiet, but once they start to talk, watch out! Excellent examples are Jim Lougee, Penney Kinsman, Linda Jackson, and Rick Harding. The seatmates Rowena Gilbert and Harriet Hillier are so very quiet that one wonders if they are really so devoted to their studies. If looks are deceiving, then in the future one can expect Cherie Chayer to become a famous weight-lifter, and Mike Hutchins and Joe Hebert to be star players for the Boston Celtics. Donny Baker and Warren Smith, if asked to give impromptu speeches would probably choose, "Cars I Have Known." Linda Felt and Earl Tyler are easily identified by their red hair, and Linsley McLain and Clayton Rice because they are just themselves. The one person left is Martha Laws, but . . . Who's she?

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank Miss Hall and Mr. Owen for their wise and patient guidance, and all the others who have helped mold us into the responsible men and women we will become in a very short time.

The sophomore class began the year with a membership of seventy-eight. There are now substantially fewer. The chairman of the Royal Five, which coordinates the sophomores, is Peter Howard, president. Subordinate to him are Lloyd Carver, vice-president; George Nickerson, treasurer; Merelyn Smith, secretary; and Gene Tebbets, S.A.C. representative. The advisors are Miss McIntyre and Mr. Knight.

There are a number of musical sophomores, starting from the depths of Don Dixon and Dick Paine, members of the "Torments," an aptly named group, going up through Barbara McKnight and Pete Howard, who went to the All-States. Vivian Brown, Elise Hatch, Barbara McKnight, Jean Robertson, Brian Clemons, Bob Everett, Dick Paine, and Mark Walker are in the band. Nancy Chapin, Peter Burgess, and Peter Howard were members of the chorus in "Ahmal and the Night Visitors" and "Carnival." Kathy Kitteridge danced in "Ahmal" and Merton Brown was a roustabout in "Carnival."

Bob Everett broke a number of course records and vied with Damone, a junior, for first place on the cross-country team. Other sophomore members were Dave Carter, Lloyd Carver, Gene Tebbets, and Warren Tibbetts.

Hot on grid were Don Dixon, Rick Sweetser, Theron Clough, George Nickerson, Tom Fadner, Robert Remington, Alanson Lovejoy, and Harlan Bean. The last four received letters.

Sophomores on the basketball team were Steve Trinward, Peter Howard, Dave Bouldry, Lloyd Carver, George Nickerson, Tom Fadner, and Al Curtis. Al received his letter.

Last year Coach Kailey said he would see a lot of the '67 skiers in the future, and he has. Six sophomores received letters: Dave Carter, Robert Remington, Ken Remsen, Rodney Swain, Gene Tebbets, and Warren Tibbetts. Seven did not: George Angevine, Olie Cole, Don Dixon, Bob Everett, John Mininni, Bob Seeman, and Dave Thurston.

In girls' class sports, the sophomores took second place. The skiers, Heidi Glines, Beth Sargent, Becky Andrews, and Eileen Saunders, contributed to the team which won the state championship.

This year the sophomores bought class rings from the Josten Company of Lewiston, Maine. On one side there is the Gould Husky. The stone is a fire blue Spinel. This style was chosen over those of the Balfour Co., Cape Elizabeth, and Herff Jones Co., Hallowell. David Bouldry was chairman of the ring committee, with Barbara McKnight and Kathy Kitteridge.

We had the weekend of October 16 and 18. On one evening there was a rally for the football team; and on the other, a dance. Merton Brown was chairman of the refreshment committee, with Michele Farrar and Vivian Brown. Ken Remsen was chairman of the entertainment committee, with John Pollack and Janet Thomas. Harlan Bean was in charge of the decorations, with Joan Frankevicz and Elise Hatch. Dave Thurston had the singular honor of, and put his whole heart into, the selling of the raffle tickets for banana splits at the Malt Shop.

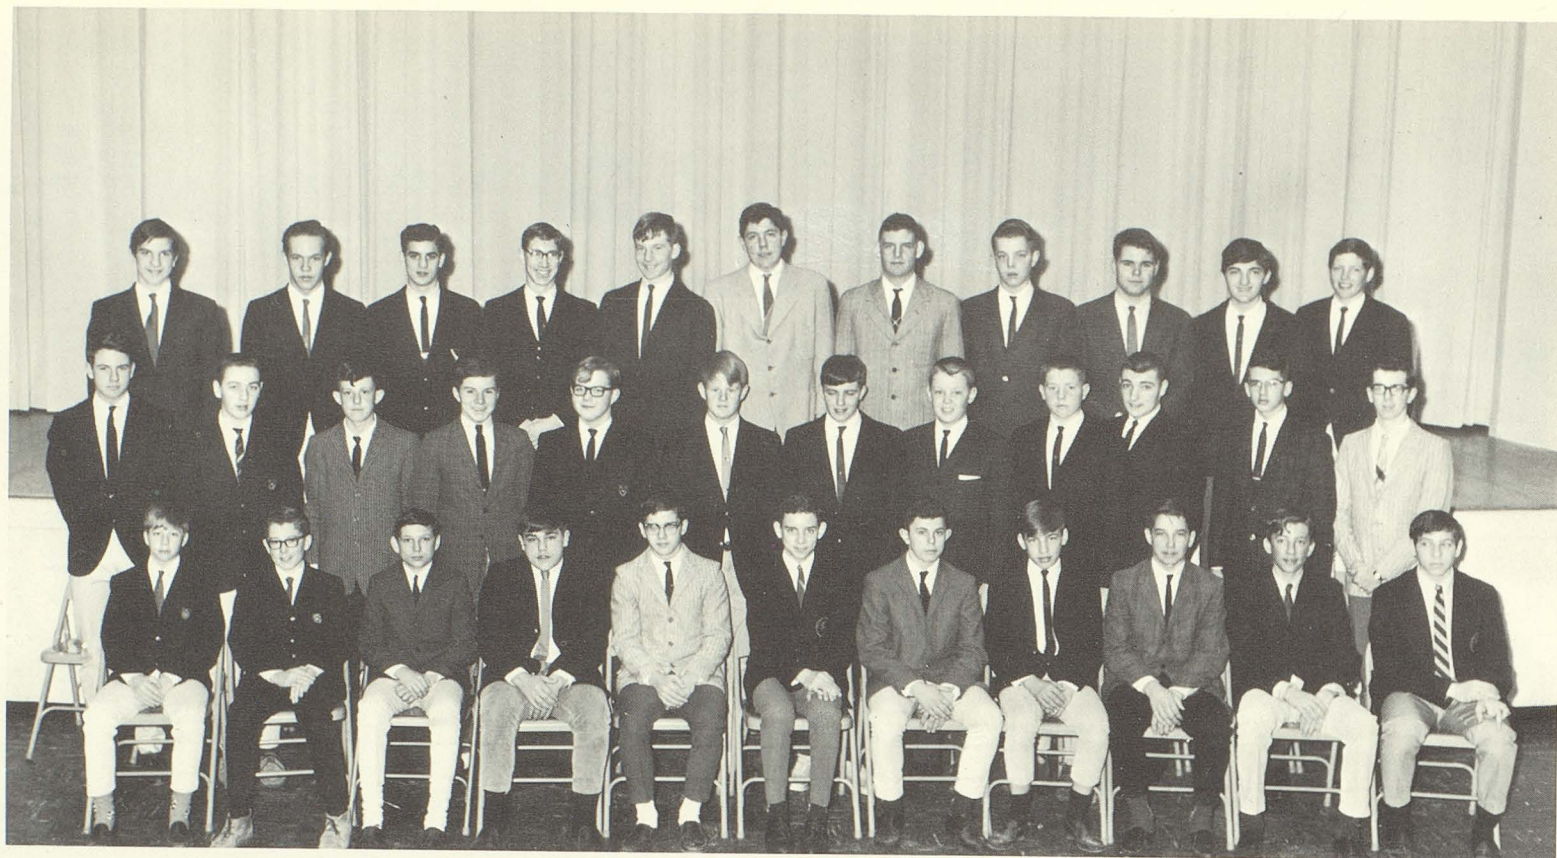

At the G.A.A. Halloween Party, Dick Paine visited all the spooks, namely John Pollack, Eileen Saunders, Becky Andrews, Barbara McKnight, George Nickerson, and Merton Brown, of Transylvania for the class skit.

The sophomores placed third overall in the Winter Carnival. Our sculpture of Dino came in second. The class basketball players tied the Seniors for second. These were Steve Trinward, Peter Howard, David Bouldry, Lloyd Carver, George Nickerson, Tom Fadner, Dick Paine, Dave Carter, Robert Remington, and Rick Sweetser. In the toboggan races, we lost once to the Freshmen and won once. The winning team consisted of Jean Robertson, Terri Reid, Al Curtis, and Warren Tibbetts. Michele Farrar, Betty Ray, Theron Clough, and Gene Tebbets were on the losing team. Our snowshoers were Theron Clough and Warren Tibbetts. Dave Thurston and Becky Andrews came in next to last in the obstacle race, and Dick Paine and Terri Reid pulled a last. We did much better in skiing, winning overall. In Class A girls, Barbara McKnight came in first and Wanda Tibbetts came in fourth. In Class A boys, Mike Tibbetts came in first, and Lloyd Carver came in fourth. Class B girls: Jean Robertson, first. Class B boys: Dave Carter, second. Class C girls: Elise Hatch, first. Class C boys: Rodney Swain, first; George Nickerson, fifth.

The first two years have set the pace; we are now hitting a stride.

Freshman Class

To the freshmen fall seemed an endless chore of gathering wood for football rally bonfires. Despite our arduous job we were able to enjoy many of the fall activities. The freshman dance, held near the end of September, was designed to get the class acquainted. It seemed, however, that many were already quite familiar. The "We Three Trio," Tom Davis, Les Sawyer, and Greg Bunney, provided the entertainment with guitars and folk songs. The planning committee responsible for the success of the party consisted of Vicky Brown, Richard Gardner, Bill Myers, Bill Eames, and Barbie Halperin. The G.A.A. Halloween Party was a highlight of the fall season. In our skit that took third place Darlene Merrill and Barbie Halperin were dancing servants of the stunning Cleopatra Bunney.

Several weeks after the freshman dance we held our class elections. David Hutchins became president; Jay Thompson, vice-president; Darlene Merrill, treasurer; Cindy Chapin, secretary and Student Activity Council representative. Throughout the year the officers have proven their worth.

Freshman Class

Kathy Powers sang in the chorus. Gretchen Dock played the piano for this production.

Lindy Chayer, Gary Swan, Dan Garneau, Chris Nowlin, and Dick Gardner made the junior varsity basketball team. Many more played B-basketball. Despite Joe's coaching the freshmen ended last in intramural basketball. The freshmen girls, however, upheld our honor by defeating the senior girls to place third in the peg championship. The freshman class is not noted for its abundance of good skiers, Jay Thompson and Joel Morgenstern being the only members out for this sport.

The freshmen sponsored the weekend of January fifteenth and sixteenth. The theme was "The Same Old Thing," and that is precisely what we featured. A basketball game on Friday night was followed by a short dance. On Saturday night there was a movie.

Carnival weekend was very enjoyable but not highly successful. Our sculpture, "The Wizard of Id," tied for third place with the junior's "Beetle Bailey." David Luxton and Pam Douglass made points for us by placing well in skiing. We also received points in snowshoeing and tobogganing. Our expert snowshoers were Bill Eames and Ned Robertson. The tobogganists were Vicky Brown, Patty Saunders, Carol Olson, Bill Myers, Roger Wheeler, Tom Davis, and Ned Robertson. Those responsible for organizing the freshman class for the winter carnival were Jay Thompson, Darlene Merrill, David Hutchins, Cindy Chapin, Patty Saunders, Rosemary Stowell, Ned Robertson, Tom Davis, Gretchen Dock, Philippe Rolfe, and Diane Cross. Although we scored last, in overall points, we felt the fun was worth the demoralization of losing.

Our faculty advisors, Mr. Berry and Miss Brouillard, have helped us organize all of our activities.

Most of us feel Gould has lived up to our expectations. We are very sorry we won't be able to graduate here.

Gehring Hall

Living in Gehring Hall is an experience that is not soon to be forgotten. The girls of Gehring Hall are like a big family. Everyone knows everyone else, and if one person is sad or especially happy, all the girls know about it. The dorm is a place where a girl can really be herself, and many long-lasting friendships are established here. The dorm is a place where the girls can relax and enjoy themselves. There are always bridge games going on in the "Butt Room"; girls gather in the living room to watch "Superman" or "Shindig"; the telephone is constantly kept busy and there are always "gab" sessions in someone's room about boys, vacations, or school.

The girls are not all angels, (as the kitchen help discovers when they find a pie or some ice cream missing some morning) but they aren't all devils, either. Our dorm is very nice and we try to keep it that way. The majority of the rooms are for two girls, and all the rooms are kept neat and usually are very attractively decorated. The rooms often show something about the girls' personalities or tastes, and the decorations vary from paintings, posters, and signs to bear rugs, fish nets, and lobster traps.

The Freshmen, Sophomores, and a few Juniors live on Third Hall. The rest of the Juniors and the Seniors live on Second Hall. Let's take a tour on an average school night just before "lights out!"

We'll start on Third Hall. As we come up the stairs, we're almost knocked over by Becky Andrews chasing Janet Thomas. What's she taken this time?

Elise Hatch and Terri Reid are in their room moving furniture again while Kerry Stevens sits on the floor trying to figure our homework problems with Elise.

Grace Brown and Barbie Halperin are in their room, discussing the boy situation. It seems as if they can't make up their minds whom they like. At this point, Carolyn Olmstead comes bouncing into the room with more good plans for that day permit.

Just as Leslie Sawyer heads for Jonnie-Lynn Lockrie's room to compare some works of art, the door flies open, and Janet Kinsley comes out -- dragging Jonnie behind her. Penny Kinsman, Jonnie's roommate, stands there laughing and tells Leslie that maybe she could come back later.

We find Barbara McKnight's room empty as usual. She's a pretty hard girl to keep track of I guess, but tonight she is in Betsy Crane's room. They look very innocent sitting there talking, but they are probably up to something.

Carolyn Olmstead is not in the room so we leave a message with her roommate, Carolyn Stanley, who we are all happy to see back again after a short illness.

We can hear noises from down the hall, and upon investigation, we find Betsy Noyes slamming drawers and fuming again as her roommate, Kay Smith, watches. Just then the intercom bellows: "Kay Smith -- telephone" and off she goes.

Bev Kelly and Laura Sawyer are in Chris Sanborn's room, discussing future plans while Diane Burrill is in the bathroom, doing her homework.

Later on tonight, if you hear a little "peck-peck," you know it's Laura Wiley up typing term papers and grandfather themes again.

Gehring-Hall

We'll begin our tour of Second Hall in the Senior Alley. The Alley consists of three small rooms and a bathroom. Sue Bartash and Jane Totten live in the first room and they are in there discussing vacations and day permits for next weekend.

Billy Philbrook and Peggy Sewell live in the next Alley room. They are up to their usual mischief as is evident as Darrell Nichols comes around the corner with a baton. Billy and Peggy have squirted water under Darrell and Michele Wyke's door again, and this time she's going to get them!

Ann Olmstead is in the last Alley room reading her latest letter from that someone special.

Joy Moore and Di Harris' room is empty, but we can hear noises coming from Cac Carswell and Steffi Buchanan's room. Joy is planning another one of THOSE weekends to Boston, Harris is trying to teach them all one of her dances and Steffi is talking to Cac (who is on the floor doing exercises) about next summer.

Next door, Bari-Lee Johnson has just washed her hair again and is starting to cut Laurel DesRoches' (her roommate) hair. Then Jane Howe comes in and she and Bari play their guitars while Laurel tries to sing along. After a while, they all give up and go into Steff and Cac's room to join the party as Steff comes flying out of the closet, mop and all.

Joanne Manahan is walking up and down the halls and finally stops in Pepper Howard and Lucy Tallman's room. Lexy DesRoches is also in there, and from the sounds of laughter and the shouts it's hard to tell what they are discussing or how long it will last.

Mary Steidl is in Karen Young's room arguing about their advanced English assignment, but I think they've reached a decision. Across the hall, they can hear Laurie Fisher singing in the shower.

Jane Look and Sue Gould are in Anna Thompson and Ducky Scribner's room playing cribbage (or is it Canasta?) again. Who's winning?

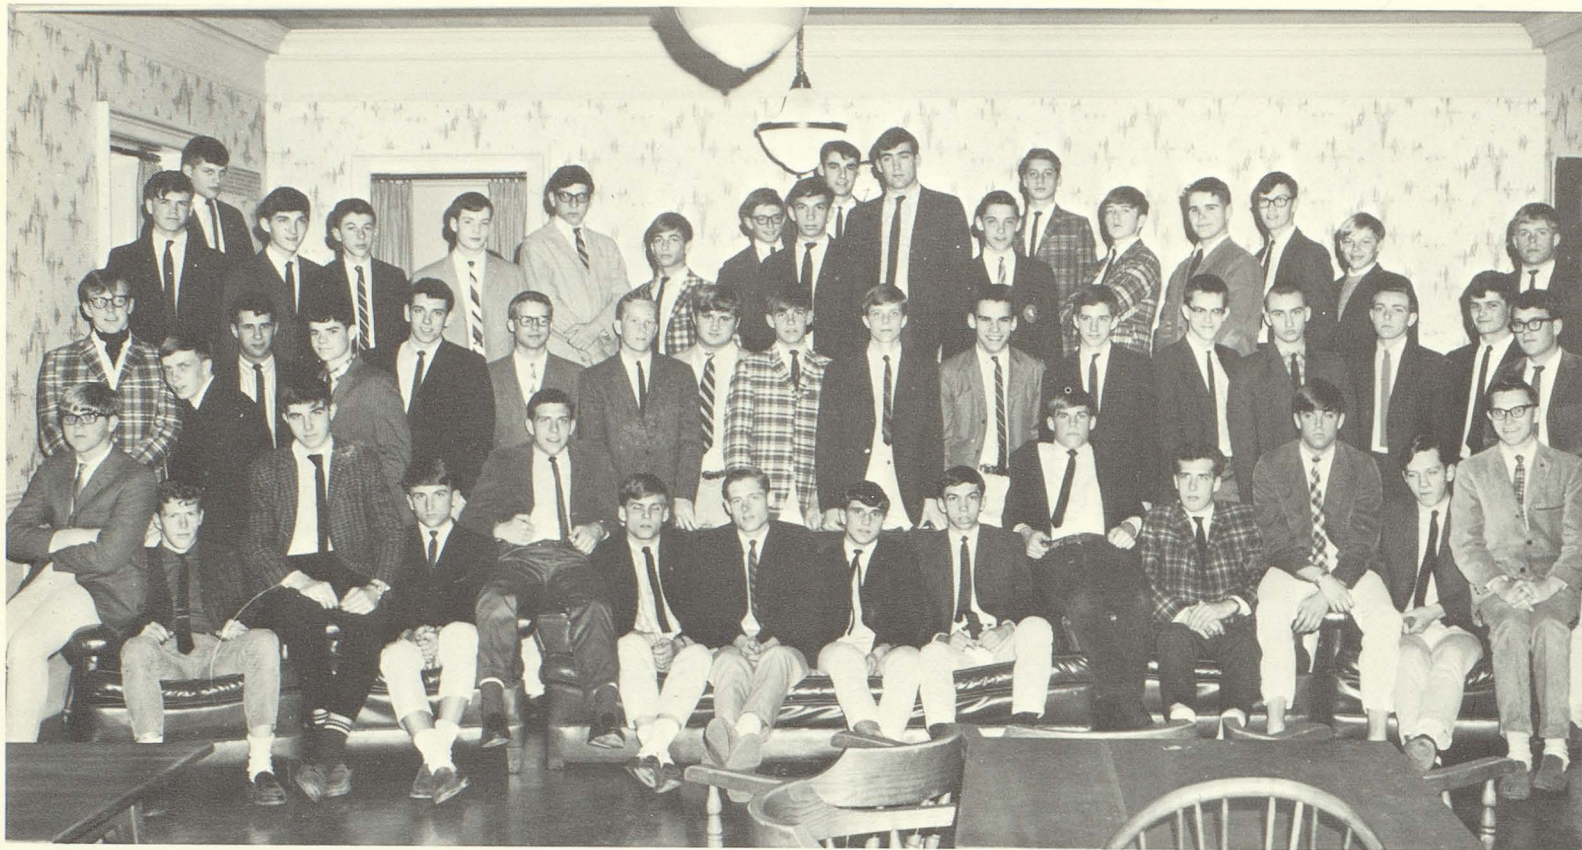

Elaine Treworgy is in Ruth MacQuinn (she and Ruthie are ski widows) and Minda Baer's room, telling jokes while Minda plans her summer vacation and where she is going to go in her Triumph. Unlike most girls, Elaine and Ruthie don't really want summer to come. Wonder why?

Carol Baker is in her room, fixing the new dress she made which is absolutely gorgeous! She will really look nice at the next ball.

"Lights Out!"

Well, that about completes the tour of Gehring Hall. I'm sorry there isn't the time or space to tell about the girls in more detail because there really is a good group of girls in the dorm. We also have some very understanding people working in the kitchen and cleaning, and also some understanding teachers. To all involved, we'd like to say "Thank You" for making living in Gehring Hall enjoyable.

Holden and Farnsworth Halls

This year in the Boys' Dorm has been a most interesting one, and the boys that make it so are as interesting and varied as the places they hail from. Let's get down to the brick building that is surrounded by tall, beautiful trees and is formally called Holden Hall and meet some of these people.

We happen to run across the boys at about six forty-five. They have been out of supper for a while and they are usually deep in their activities. As we walk in the front door, we notice on the board that Moore lost another softball game yesterday. That's all right, Steve. You're still hanging onto third place. We also notice that this week-end will be an interesting one because Mr. Hillier and Mr. Chakoumakos are on duty. You lucky men!

The first room we come to is that of Albert Cummings, otherwise known as "Uncle Fester." He is discussing photography with John Pollack, who doesn't know anything about it. "Fester" is also the dormitory pharmacist. Room #2 houses Greg Bunney, who is playing his record player, as usual, and studying. Down in the alley we hear some loud noise (Yes, boys, that's all it is.) from Tom Wolff's room. Joe Morgenstern, Tom, and Bob Seemann are in there really having a jam session with guitars, harmonicas, and kazoes. You wouldn't believe it but after a week of practice it's beginning to sound like something. Down deeper into the alley Steve Mahler is trying to get Stan McKnight out of his own room by force, so that Steve can study, so he says. Study! I haven't seen him study since the last time a term paper was due for history. Remember, Steve? Page Liberty is quietly playing his folk guitar in his corner room. Don't laugh, everybody. He's pretty good with that one.

Out of the alley and down the main drag we first come to Don Dixon's household. We see that he's quietly plucking at his guitar while listening to a record. You may ask how can it be quiet? Well, I don't know, but it's nice. Next we come to Bob Seemann's room. We saw him down in Wolff's room, but we also see that Seemann's ready for an invasion. He has made heavy artillery with part of a coat hanger taped to the heavy end of a pole cue in such a form that a heavy elastic will throw other small bent pieces of coat hanger. If you go back into Morgenstern's room, you will see the effects of this. He has three broken windows. Mr. Danforth got away with all the small fire arms. They were messy, too. Next we come to Mininni's room. I will always remember one thing about Jon: when we had a small fire in the incinerator room, Jon, at the first notion, got his ski boots and poles and rushed out the back door. His skis were still in his room! Ollie Cole doesn't seem to be doing much of anything. Bob Clemons is doing much more of the same. Then we come to the abode of Ray Halperin (Porker) and Joe Pendleton (José). Porker seems to be doing a Progress Report for Mr. "Chuck." Are you serious, Pork? "No!" José doesn't seem to be around.

After a grueling climb upstairs, we fall into Tim Wiles (Baldy) and Rick Harding's room. Rick moved up with Tim when Wiles and Clifton came to arms. Rick is trying to do his French book report and not succeeding. Wiles is succeeding. The next room houses a boy of courage, of determination, and of stubbornness. Who else, but Les Stevens, would drink that Nutriment stuff and read Bob Seemann's body-building magazines? Phil Martin isn't in; he must be up in the attic catching flies for his many animals in Martin's zoo. "Step right up, folks; room 33, one-tenth of a dollar . . ." Jim Lougee must be up there with him. Bob Pierce is talking on his walkie-talkie, probably to the girls' dorm. Right, Bob? Jim McBain is fooling with his huge cabinet which keeps his record changer, an amplifier, and two big speakers and a compartment for a big tape recorder. Paul Knight (Bozo) isn't in. I see that his unicycle isn't in. He must be riding it because there is only one other person in the dorm that can ride it, and he's writing these stupid notes! Clifton (Einstein) is arguing a point in mathematics which doesn't make a bit of difference one way or the other. He wants to improve his power of argument. Someday he hopes to beat Mr. Kailey. Atwood and Runyon are throwing each other against the wall. It's all right; they do it all the time. Rolfe Foxwell is trying to argue with Bill Boynton (Krink) about college. Foxwell is saying that "Fun in the sun means you get more done." Boynton is talking about something completely different. He says that Chris is still true to him. Andrews is trying to understand Kerouac and saying, "I don't understand anything anymore!" Russ Hunter (Hannibal) is still fuming about his record player that was taken away by Mr. Knight when Andrews played it too loud too long. Bill Donahue is desperately trying to stamp out a fire that McBain started. "That's okay, Bill. Wait till you get into bed."

Holden Hall

The next set of rooms we come to is known as Senior Alley. The first room is that of Bill Boynton. He isn't in but his South Vietnamese water pipe, his Chinese painting that hangs on the wall, and other places, and his 1920 riding hat are all there. The next room is the corner room of Gordon Manual and Thomas Day. They are quietly trying to make an improvement on American Tobacco Company's cigarette-making machine. Tommy is looking at his marriage license. Across the hall we run into Dave Kibbe (Skivie) and Alan Howard's (Pud) room. Pud is playing his pint-sized guitar and humming. Kibbe is busily counting No-Doz tablets to find out if they can last the night. European term papers are due tomorrow.

Down the upstairs alley we find the humble house of Doug Boynton (Little Krink) and Ken Morse. Doug is studying with the sun lamp going and his Viet Cong helmet on. Morse, as usual, is trying to argue about something he knows nothing about. Tim King (Pen) and John Goodrich (Cece) occupy the next room. We see Tim writing up a new list of excuses for bad tennis shots. Tyler Moses (Mose) and Dave Putnam are still grumbling. I guess Engineering class didn't go too well today. The next room is occupied by Mod (Man on Duty). We see that he isn't in. He must be up and around tonight; he is probably looking for somebody whom he can catch doing his term paper at one o'clock, Kibbe, Moore, etc. Dave Wells and Glen Langley are having a private war with Don Ferrero and Steve Moore. The weapons consist of little metal bottle caps. And they're not just thrown. The bottle caps are placed on the thumb, and the middle finger is snapped so that the cap flies. John Lombard is out. He is probably out finding some more TAR members for his beloved President.

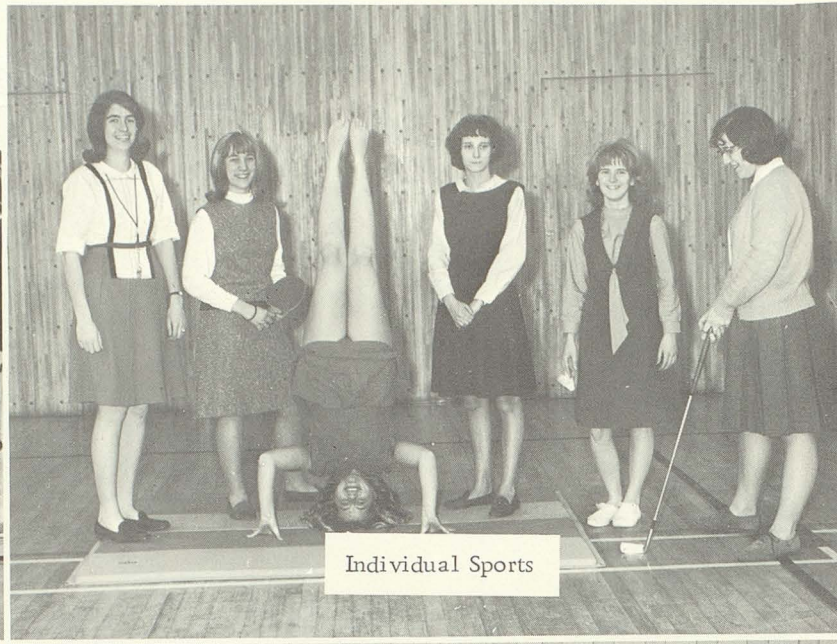

And so ends our happy little promenade around the Boys' Dorm. Before we leave we would like to give our note of appreciation to Mr. Julian Thompson and all he has done for us.

Down at Farnsworth House, which has become the sophomore hall, is a group of boys whom Mr. Scott has become very happy with, and he is happy that these same boys will be living down there next year. At present we find them occupied as follows: Dave Bouldry and Pete Howard are trying to figure out a tough geometry problem before going out to play softball. Remsen and Swain are talking about the last trip to the New England's. John Pollack is up at the other dorm getting a lecture from Cummings.

Student Activity Council

The school year 1964-1965 at Gould Academy proved very successful and active for most of the organizations on campus, thanks to the wise and firm leadership of the Student Activity Council's guiding hand. This revised system for a Student Council was initiated in 1962, and has proven itself well. It's specific purposes are to act as a co-ordinating power for all organizations on campus, to undertake a program for the training of new officers elected to all clubs, to promote school citizenship, to supervise school elections, and to serve as a sounding board for all student problems. This year's officers -- President -- Bill Boynton, Vice President -- Anne Scribner, Secretary -- Chris Sanborn, and Treasurer -- Ken Morse, with the assistance of its Executive Council members -- Joy Moore, Jack Andrews, and Doug Boynton -- have led the full council and the school in fulfilling the purposes and more.

The year started out with a slew of extra meetings trying to settle the matter of our budget. The spending of the students' money has always been of utmost concern in almost all matters discussed in S. A. C., since that is one of its purposes -- to spend the students' money in a way that will be the most beneficial for them. So after a couple of weeks of hashing and getting used to S. A. C. routine, we passed the budget.

Many people aren't aware of the projects that S. A. C. has charge of and carries through. Almost all directly involve the students and benefits for them. One program that comes up every year is the selection of movies and assemblies for the following year. This was no exception. After a committee was chosen to take care of each, and these people had collected various opinions of what was desired for next year, the schedule was decided on.

An officer training program, initiated by S. A. C., was started in the fall. This consisted of a number of meetings of all presidents and vice presidents of clubs with Mr. Vachon, all treasurers with Mr. Myers, and all secretaries with Miss Swift. At each of these sessions, the teachers tried to give the students pointers as to how to fulfill their offices to the utmost.

There are several projects which the Council always takes charge of. One is the election of a male member of the student body to the Athletic Council. This year their selection was Les Stevens.

Parents' Day is also in the hands of the Council. This they handle with ease -- posting members at the registration desk, planning the activities for the students, and keeping an eye on the overall affair. This year was no exception. The day was a great success with the help of the Council, the faculty, and the students.

Another responsibility of S. A. C. is to supervise all elections. Eugene Tebbets was the chairman of this standing committee and could be seen throughout the year counting ballots from either class elections, book polls, or Carnival Queen.

The highlight of the early winter season is the Christmas formal. This is the first time the girls get to don their gowns and the boys their uncomfortable but nice-looking suits. The Student Activity Council had charge of it, and it was really splendid. With Christmas trees around the gym and a wild (?) combo to get people moving, it started the Christmas off right.

There is one other project that S. A. C. automatically has control over, and that is bus trips to athletic contests. A certain amount of money is allotted to this in the budget, and from that the members decide if a bus should be taken, how much S. A. C. would subsidize for it, and how much the students would have to pay.

So, as you can see, the Student Activity Council is pretty busy just taking care of its defined duties -- not even mentioning extra projects. But that doesn't mean that they left it at that. Far from it. Now we'll mention a few of the "extras" that they undertook.

From our main source of ideas -- the suggestion box in the mail hall, (from which come some very choice suggestions) came the thought that we should have a paperback book store or some arrangement whereby students may have better access to the purchase of these. So after careful consideration of all possibilities, it was decided to make an arrangement with the Drug Store whereby any paperbacks wanted could be ordered.

Another program which was sponsored by the Mountain Valley League and was carried through here by S. A. C. was an exchange program for one day by one student with members of the league. In April a representative of Mexico High School visited our campus, and we sent one to theirs, both on the look-out for ideas for their own school.

In the spring a new idea came up as a result of a convention attended by Bill and Chris. This was for all organizations to elect their officers in the spring and have these officers work along with the present officers, thus preparing them for their duties next year. This is a further extension of the officer training program. It was introduced to all clubs and was well received by them. It was also made mandatory that all S. A. C. representatives for the following year be elected in the spring in order that they can attend meetings and become familiar with S. A. C. and its functions.

So, all in all, it was a very busy season for S. A. C. With witty remarks from Doug Boynton, lively argument from Jack Andrews, and sound advice from our advisors, Miss MacDougall, Mr. Myers, and Mr. Thompson (who also came up with several witty remarks), the Council helped make 64-65 a successful and happy year for everyone.

Blue and Gold

What's going on around here anyway? How many times have you heard that question? Perhaps you've even wondered a little bit at times yourself. Well, there's one easy and enjoyable way to find out. Read the Blue and Gold, Gould Academy's own private fountain of information.

This year's crew of information seekers was headed by the able co-editors Sue Gould and Ethel Kimball. Aiding the co-editors in individual fields were the following: Nancy Hancock as alumni editor, Paula Frankevicz and Jim Clifton as feature editors, Laurie Fisher serving as exchange editor, Chris Sanborn (G. A. A. vice-president) with girls' sports, Al Howard as boys' sports editor, Gertrude Waldron music editor, organizations under Larry Billings, photography taken care of by Bill Boynton (Photography Club president), circulation with Di Harris, and Al Walker as advertising manager. Of course, the crew was rounded off by an excellent reportorial staff.

Do you remember when Gould received three new faculty members for the 1964-65 school year, the halloween party, Sadie Hawkins dance, our production of Amahl and the Night

Visitors, the "Joyous" winter carnival, the sports events, and exactly what your favorite organizations did during the year? You need never forget. The Blue and Gold staff has provided you with detailed and permanent accounts completed by action-filled pictures for which we wish to thank the Photography Club.

The paper was produced only through teamwork. Our star player was Mr. David Thompson who has energetically contributed both his time and his skill. We are taking this opportunity, Mr. Thompson, to let you know that your work has all been greatly appreciated, thank you. Thanks is also due another important member of the team, Mr. Vachon, who took time out of an extremely busy schedule to write an interesting as well as an informative Headmaster's Corner for each issue. The long-suffering typists and the Citizen office must also be remembered as two essential members of the team. As you can see, a lot of hard work from a lot of people make this paper possible.

Music

Tomorrow's professional musicians are today's high school students. The young mind, yearning for expression, can deliver perfection in the field of music. Gould has its share of talent in many ways. The band, a group of determined, hard-working students, is worthy of much praise. The chorus, another group of equally determined students, does a magnificent job. The Chapman Club, a select group of talented students, acts as a sort of foundation on which creative ability can be expressed in the manner of Broadway shows.

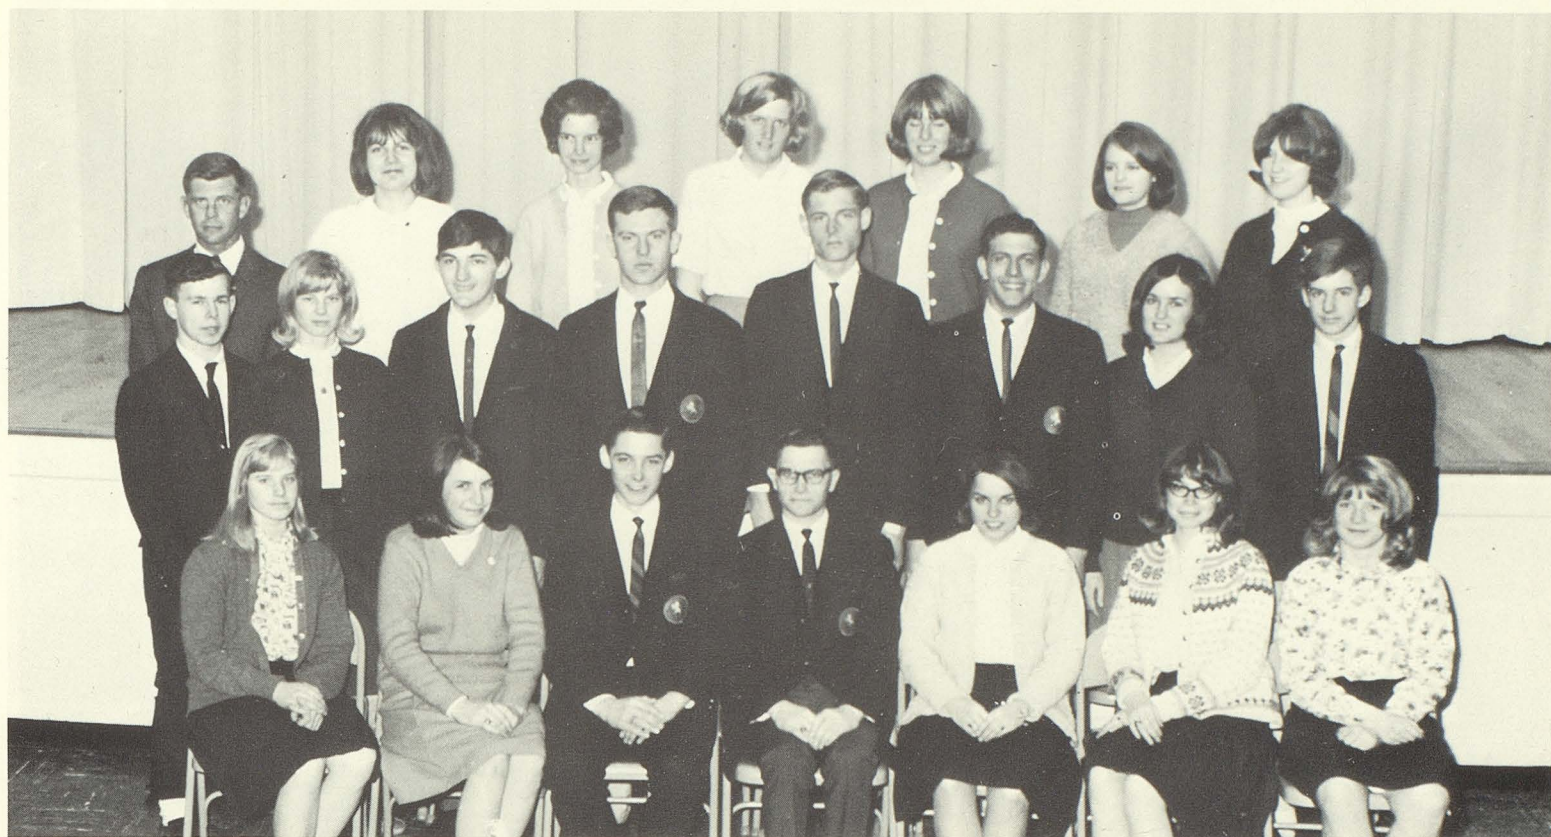

The band, glee club, and Chapman Club organize themselves during the first couple weeks of school. All work very hard throughout the year. The band adds a bit of color to the home football games, as they march down the field in their bright blue and gold uniforms to the steady cadence of snappy snare drums.

This is only the beginning. Ahead lie two shows. AMAHL AND THE NIGHT VISITORS is the highlight of the Christmas season. This is a heart-warming story of a boy, who, hearing of the birth of the Christ child, makes an offering of his crutch to three passing kings on their way to pay homage to the King of Kings. Miraculously Amahl, much to the astonishment of his mother and himself, is cured of his lameness. Being able to walk, he leaves with the kings to pay his respect to Christ. This opera required the combined efforts of all the musical groups at Gould to make it the success it was.

As soon as the Christmas program was over, work was begun on the oncoming spring show, CARNIVAL. Day after day the show was slowly pieced together. This show was by far the hardest piece of music ever attempted here at Gould. Not enough can be said about how hard EVERYONE worked. At times discouraged, the entire cast still pressed on. All too soon the show deadline lay but one weekend ahead. Now came the time for dress rehearsals. Would the show be ready on May 7? This was the question in everyone's mind. May 7 -- the show -- SUCCESS! The efforts had not been in vain. The second showing on May 8 was once again a mark of perfection. Now that it was finally over, many wished they could go back and do it again.

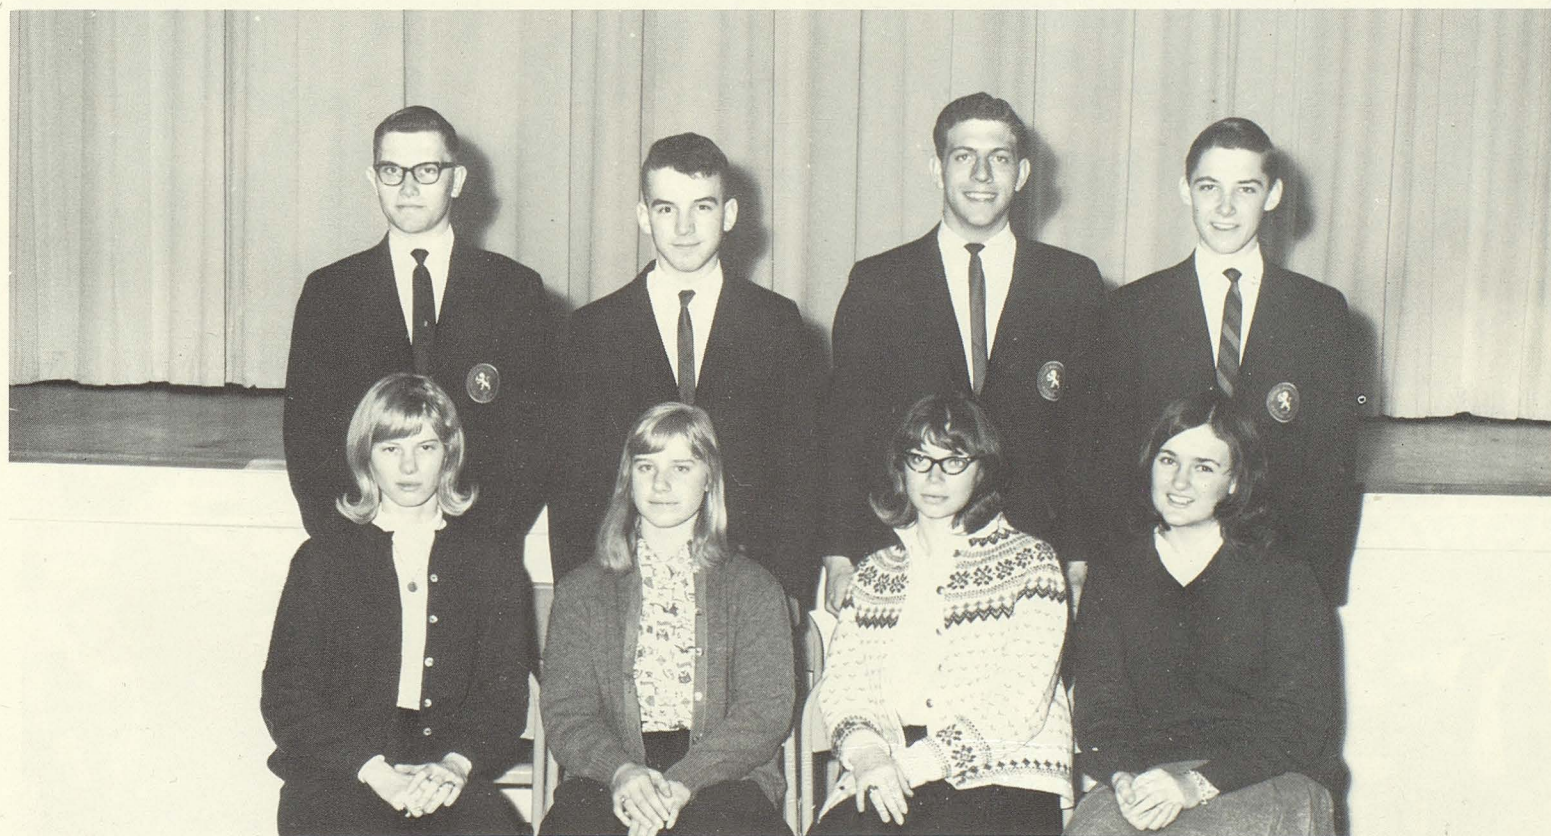

Mr. Owen, the man responsible, deserves much, much credit. Day in and day out he rehearsed and prepared props for the show. This man is truly worthy of the respect that is shown him by his musicians. They all have confidence in this energetic, hard-working man. Without his interpretation of the music score the show could not have been the success it was. Future musicians at Gould have a goal to work for, and with an instructor like Mr. James Owen they will reach their goal.

French Club

Looking into the past through our crystal ball, let's bring the Gould Academy French Club into focus. The year is 1964-1965, an active one, indeed, for everything and everyone at Gould. Now, let's see, the officers that were elected in the fall were the following: Treasurer -- Jim Clifton, Secretary -- Chris Sanborn (busy taking notes for more than just the French Club!), Vice President -- Doug Boynton, and President -- Anne Scribner.

It seems that the year's activities got off on a panicked foot when the French Club volunteered its services to sponsor a weekend -- a few days before the actual event, thanks to our loyal S. A. C. representative, Bill Boynton (it runs in the family). There was actually no need for panic because one can always fall back on the same routine -- a movie one night and a dance the next. So in order to prevent any change in "tradition," the club followed through and provided the same.

The Christmas season brought a feeling of good cheer and joy to the campus, and in order to portray this warm feeling, "les francais," under the wise and determined direction of their advisors, Madame Thomine and Mr. Danforth, set out to entertain citizens of the town with little understood but cheerful Christmas carols. After their jaunt, they were invited into Mr. Vachon's home for warm food and conversation.

The next few months seem a little cloudy, but, ah, from afar we see busy committees preparing for the annual French Club Party. As is the problem with many organizations, they needed money in order to provide a good party for Gould students. So here we see "Twid," "Foxy," "Gload," and a few others scouring the town for bottles willingly donated by kind-hearted people. As the station wagon starts filling up with bottles, we note a strange occurrence -- two boys emerge from the car to help -- where've they been all this time? No matter, at least some money was gotten from the excursion -- much to Mr. Bryant's dismay at having to get rid of them all.

Everything seems to be ready for the big night, but oops, there in the corner we see twelve breathless girls in the corrective room trying to kick their legs on the same beat. It must be the Can-Can Girls -- straight from Paris, no doubt, and covered with blisters! NOW everything must be ready. And the soiree comes in sharp and clear. The gym is decorated in sidewalk café style, refreshments direct from France are being served, and the Can-Can Girls are doing their bit for an enthusiastic audience!

So the year is over and we must move on with this final word -- have fun and bonne chance!

The Outing Club

Being the largest coed organization on campus, the Outing Club is composed of about 150 members. Serving as advisors are Mr. Brewster, Mr. Knight, and Mr. Barth. The following are the officers: Joy Moore, president; Glen Langley, vice president; Anna Thompson, secretary; Bob Pierce, treasurer. Jack Andrews is the Outing Club's S. A. C. representative. These five, along with the following, are members of the Executive Council: Laurel DesRoches, Steve Moore, Russell Hunter, Stephanie Buchanan, Chris Sanborn, Caren Carswell and Jack Brooks.

With the fall came mountain hikes to Mt. Barker, Caribou, Washington, and Jefferson. On the weekend of November 22, the Outing Club sponsored a weekend entitled "Sadie Hawkins Goes Twirp." Following a movie on Friday night was a Sports Day on Saturday afternoon in the field house including entertainment such as playing cards, volleyball, basketball, and jumping on the "tramp." Let's not forget the Twirp Dance on Saturday night with Yogi Bear as the master of ceremonies!

The weekend of the Winter Carnival, March 12-13, was a great success this year. Two new events were added this year; the obstacle skiing race and the class C (beginners') race for boys and girls, to add to the fun. Despite the lack of snow, all classes produced fine snow sculptures entitled as follows: "Peanuts" by the seniors, which took first place; "Dino" by the sophomores, which took second place; "The Wizard of Id" by the freshmen and "Beatle Bailey" by the juniors, which tied for third place. The classes placed in the Winter Carnival as follows (from first to last): seniors, and, of course, the freshmen! The weekend would not have been complete without the Carnival Ball on Saturday night. Nor would it have been complete without a queen, Joy Moore, with her four attendants who were Ruth MacQuinn, Sue Bartash, Louann Brown, and Caren Carswell.

This spring we are in hopes of going on a coed overnight.

This organization has contributed a great deal to Gould Academy with its many activities. Much thanks are due to its advisors, officers, and members for their work which has made it so successful.

Debating Club

Under the guidance of our new advisor, Mr. Vogt, the Debating Club has had an active year. It has also been a very profitable year. Many new methods of strategy and program set-up have been discovered which will serve the club well in future encounters.

Following the age-old motto of first things first, the debaters began the year with the election of their officers who were as follows: Diane Burrill -- president, organizer of debaters -- Jim Clifton, secretary -- Paula Frankevicz, Al Cummings, S. A. C. representative.

During the tense weeks before the elections, S. A. C. and the Debating Club joined forces to bring the Presidential campaign under the spotlight at Gould Academy. The bandwagon started rolling with an informal debate at a Monday morning assembly. John Goodrich and Ray Halperin blew the horn for Barry Goldwater while Paula Frankevicz and Joe Pendleton asserted the more popular side for Johnson. Jim Clifton served as debate moderator. S. A. C. picked up the ball next with a mock election in study hall. When the ballots had been counted, the Gould vote, both students and faculty, was revealed to have been cast overwhelmingly for Johnson. The Democratic donkey also carried Paula and Joe to a similar debate victory.

After this home-town warm-up session, the club advanced into a vigorous round of encounters with groups. Yes, siree, the debaters have been launching debates right and left. This year's national debating topic is resolved: that nuclear weapons should be controlled by an international organization. Believe me, that one certainly can try a person's soul, to say nothing of his talents and tactics. Nevertheless, our gallant Gould team has accepted this challenge, and in this connection sponsored three contests. The first was a discussion forum at Bates. Ellen Kennett, Paula Frankevicz, Diane Burrill, Joe Pendleton, and John Goodrich were the able ones who tackled that assignment with Diane emerging as the victor from her group. Next, the fiery crew, this time consisting of Ellen Kennett and Jim Clifton for the affirmative, and Ray Halperin and John Goodrich as the negative, struck hard at the Bridgton Academy gang. Stephens High School in Rumford served as the next victim: Diane Burrill and Paul Pierce took the affirmative stand, and Tim Wiles and Jim Clifton asserted the negative viewpoint.

As you can see, debating is not all just a lot of chatter, but we did have some just-for-fun debates and discussions. Perhaps, the most memorable was the one in which Tim Wiles and Bill Boynton as one force and Jim Clifton and Joe Pendleton as the other debated on the policy which the United States should pursue in Vietnam, the debate being Tim's initiation ceremony and spiced up by Bill's sincere interest in the subject.

The club is sorry to be losing some of its most faithful members, and they will certainly be missed. On the other hand, many of the club's new members have displayed a great deal of promising spirit. With this thought, we shall tackle the new year.

Future Homemakers of America

One of the most interesting and active organizations at Gould is the Future Homemakers of America, better known as FHA. Last spring the following girls were elected officers for 1964-65 at their initiation program: president, Merry York; vice-president, Rachel Keniston; treasurer, Brenda Sweetser; secretary, Dorothy Verrill; historian, Sue Bartash; parliamentarian, Barbara Hutchinson; public relations chairman, Jackie Jackson; social and recreation chairman, Donna Breault.

The FHA girls have participated in several activities. For money-making projects they have had a car wash and have sold cookbooks, which they made. The chapter helped the Methodist Youth Group collect money for UNICEF at Halloween. They participated in District convention held at Mechanic Falls High School, Mechanic Falls, Maine, and nine girls were chosen to represent the chapter at State Convention held in Hallowell, Maine. During Christmas time the girls helped the Health Council of Bethel make blankets and pajamas for the needy. The girls have sponsored two successful weekends.

This year an advisory board, made up of members of this community, was established to acquaint the officers with the needs and wants of the community and to acquaint the community with what the chapter can offer. Representing various groups and aspects of community life are Mr. Edmond Vachon, chairman, Mrs. Norris Brown, Mrs. Arthur Chayer, Mrs. Robert Keniston, Miss Linda Nickerson, Mr. Roland Glines, Reverend Donald Hess, and Mr. Donald Stecher.

The Future Homemaker's award will be presented at the Mother-Daughter Banquet on May 25. This year's recipient is Dorothy Verrill, a senior member.

Following the Mother and Daughter Banquet there will be the presentation of awards and the initiation of new officers.

The FHA faculty advisor, Miss Minot, will be leaving this year. The girls will miss the help and guidance she has given them these past several years. They all join in extending their best wishes to Miss Minot.

"The Game of Chess"

Tom Day, Jack Andrews, Tim Wiles, and John Goodrich.

Dramatics

Traditionally, Mr. David Thompson directs either a three-act play or three, one-act plays in the Bingham Auditorium. On February 13, seventeen senior actors participated in what Gould's theatergoers felt were three of Mr. Thompson's best productions. Comedy, drama, and emotion were achieved with unusual acting quality.

First on the program was "Two Crooks and a Lady." Jane Look acted as the affluent paralytic whose diamond necklace, ("ice"), represented the object of Gordon Manuel's and Sally Kinne's greed. Nurse Karen Young gave Look the opportunity to display an aristocratic personality. Detective Ralph Ogden had little sympathy for Manuel and Kinne as he bodily apprehended them just prior to curtain fall.

"Two Crooks and a Lady" was brilliantly cast, as few acting flaws could be detected by anyone, including the exacting director. Each personality was passionately portrayed, and balcony observers recognized excellent diction.

Between plays, band director James Owen entertained from the orchestra pit with "Irish Folk Suite," "Carnival," and "Oh, Comrade." The audience enjoyed listening to the themes almost as much as the band enjoyed presenting them.

The second play was a farce comedy entitled, "Ah, Sweet Mystery." A large cast of odd, if not mentally disillusioned, characters offered excellent exaggerations of the nature of mystery-lovers. Ruth MacQuinn, after less than three weeks of practice, stole the show as elderly Mrs. Emily Briggs. Nancy Fox was Emily's granddaughter, Sue Bartash her daughter, Tyler Moses her son, Linda Lord her cook, Mary Steidl her nurse, and Ray Halperin her doctor. James Clifton acted as the nervous boarder under the pseudonym of Cyrus Jones. After the play progressed, we learned that Cyrus was actually Carl Jasper, the hero of the Briggs mystery addicts. Emily, an avid reader of every mystery in reach, was first to discover the mysterious Jones' true identity. Uncle Willie Briggs (Tyler Moses) possessed the final installment on a current mystery, written by Jasper, in a mystery magazine. Chaos opened. Every member of the family, including Mother Emily, was out for the mystery's conclusion or Uncle Willie's blood. Clifton, in the final moments of the play, claimed that he intended to write another mystery based on the Briggs family which would make his other stories dull. He leaves the stage with Kate Briggs (Nancy Fox), his bride-to-be.

Beneath the "Ah, Sweet Mystery" comedy was an excellent study in the minds of men and the passions of society en masse. Rarely do people enjoy a high school play of such significance.

The third play of the evening was entitled "The Game of Chess." Tim Wiles, as a noble of Czarist Russia, exhibited a three-dimensional personality. In his confrontation with a "fanatic," the aristocrat "Alexandrovich" reversed the course of the plot by tricking his avowed assassin into drinking poison.

Jackson Andrews played a role as passionate as any seen in the auditorium that night. As the rebel-assassin Shamraef, Andrews filled the theater with mixed emotions of hate and compassion. Together but against each other these two brought a tense, life-or-death parley which left the audience breathless. Tom Day as the footman in Alexandrovich's palace introduced Shamraef to the chess players, John Goodrich (Constantine) and Wiles.

"The Game of Chess" also was characteristic of true melodrama. Mr. Thompson was pleased to the point of entering this play in regional competition, where it won its first contest at Stevens High School in Rumford. The play was also subsequently presented at Waterville.

We would like to thank wholeheartedly the efforts of the quiet and patient stage crew: Paul Vachon, Paul Pierce, Page Liberty, and John Pollack. Joe Roderick, Mr. Owen, and Mrs. David Thompson, as make-up artists, were professional in quality.

The class of 1965, particularly the seventeen mentioned above, would like to congratulate Mr. Thompson on another excellent Gould production. We extend our hopes that he direct many more plays with comparable success.

BIOLOGY CLUB

This year, as always, the Biology Club has succeeded admirably in accenting the necessity of a thorough and working knowledge of nature on the part of each of its members. Throughout its various endeavors this organization under the guidance of Mr. Brewster, the faculty advisor, has sought to further this end.

At the first meeting, held September 24, 1964, the slate of officers was elected. They are as follows: president, Jack McMillin; vice-president, Jack Brooks; secretary, Peggy Sewell; and S. A. C. representative, Doug Boynton. The club also voted unanimously to have dues of 50¢ for the year. It was further agreed that the officers should decide upon the date for a long-awaited trek to the wilds of Step Falls.

The following are recorded as members of the Biology Club: J. Brooks, L. Billings, D. Ferrero, C. Runyon, J. McMillin, J. Lombard, M. Lowell, R. Halperin, D. Marcy, S. Runyon, P. Martin, P. Sewell, M. Steidl, P. Frankevicz, D. Boynton, Pollack, and M. Rolfe.

At the January meeting suggestions were made and plans formulated for the weekend of February 12 and 13, which the club had chosen to sponsor. These proposals included a biology movie and a dance with an appropriately biological theme and decorations.

Various individuals also undertook the execution of projects which could be edifying to their fellow members. Mimeo-graphed sheets explaining each project's comparative value would be issued upon the completion of the work.

The group has contemplated spring excursions to places like Speck Mountain for the purpose of nature study. Furthermore, a suggestion has been made that the Biology Club could start a long-range project for landscaping the grounds behind the girls' dorm.

Throughout the year the Biology Club has enjoyed many informative movies such as the recent "Pipeline to the Clouds." These cover a wide variety of subjects and were thoughtfully procured through the efforts of Mr. Brewster.

So, as you may readily see, the Biology Club will have no dearth of ideas and projects in the future. And undoubtedly we will hear even more of this group next year.

WEATHER CLUB

The newest organization on campus, the Weather Club, is composed of about twenty members. The officers for this year are the following: Ned Robertson, president; Greg Bunney, vice president; Lindy Chayer, secretary and treasurer, Jay Thompson is the S. A. C. representative.

The Weather Club is a full-fledged club; it has a constitution. No dues are collected, but each member must have taken or be taking Earth Science and maintain a "C" average. Officers must attend three-fourths of the meetings; members must attend one-half of the meetings.

The Weather Club, though small, is very active, giving daily weather predictions and showing exhibits under the direction of Mr. Barth, the advisor. These activities help to get all the members familiar with weather equipment and learn just what is behind a daily prediction on radio and television. It also helps freshmen in their studies on weather in Earth Science.

There are a number of things considered for prediction, such as relative humidity (moisture in the air), wind direction (this tells whether a high or a low pressure system is moving in), weather maps specially put out by the Weather Bureau (these tell what weather is moving into our area), temperature, and barometric pressure.

The Weather Club has benefited the student body very much. Many students form a habit of observing the weather predictions posted in the display window adjoining the Earth Science laboratory. By making use of weather vanes, rain gauges, and other instruments on top of the main building, the Weather Club posts predictions for the day, night, and following day both at morning and noon. Many students also busy themselves looking at various exhibits of the Weather Club in the front hall of the main building.

The Weather Club sponsored a weekend on March 19-20. On Friday night a movie was shown, followed by a dance. On the following night there was a dance which everyone enjoyed. This new organization has made an exceptionally fine start this year, thanks to the members with the assistance of Mr. Barth. We hope the Weather Club will be equally active next year.

Latin Club

Despite the fact that it has been in existence only two years, the Gould Academy Latin Club, the Laeti Latini, has made great strides as a campus organization while acquainting both Latin students and their fellows with Roman times and customs. Probably much of the credit for the group's achievements should go to its dedicated rulers or, if you will, officers. They were as follows: president, Sue Gould; vice-president, Kevin Wight; secretary, Martha Laws; treasurer, Jack Brooks; and S. A. C. representative, Ken Morse. Furthermore, they had three very efficient co-workers in Nancy Chapin, John Lombard, and Linda Lord, who composed the Olympian council.

Provided a special impetus by these officials, the club accomplished much at its monthly meetings. For instance, it was decided that the members (there are 41 in all) would each be required to pay dues of 50¢ for the year. Committees were appointed to formulate plans for the weekend, the initiation, and the Roman Banquet and to draw up a constitution. Having heard the committee reports, the group discussed and amended them; it then set about implementing them, each member contributing his services and ideas. We also voted in favor of a S. A. C. suggestion for supporting a foreign exchange student. Entertainment -- usually in the form of competition -- was provided at each meeting.

Once again the Latin Club voted to join the Junior Classical League, a national association of Latin clubs, and decided for the first time to align itself with the League's Maine Chapter. The benefits of this relationship have been myriad; not only has the Laeti Latini been in close contact with its counterparts in other schools and learned much from them, but it also sent delegates to the state convention which was held in April. In fact, we even nominated Jack Brooks, Christine Sanborn, and Martha Laws for state offices.

There were three main events of the Roman year: the Latin Club Dance, the initiation, and the Roman Banquet. January 9, the dance was held in the girls' gym, which was decorated with balloons and red and white streamers. The atmosphere was festive and typically Roman; the Forum with its offering of food and wine was much visited; the sibyl, Martha Laws, accurately prophesied her customers' fates; two singers, Laurie and Laura, and the chariot races constituted the entertainment.

On February 17, the second event, the initiation ceremonies, resulted in the acceptance of those first year Latin students who had an average of 84 or above into the organization. The sacred rites were held on the candle-lit stage of the auditorium and were attended by togaed Romans. The gods, represented by the officers themselves, administered the oath of membership, lectured the new members, and bestowed blessings upon them. And, of course, the meeting was closed with the singing of the club's anthem in Latin.

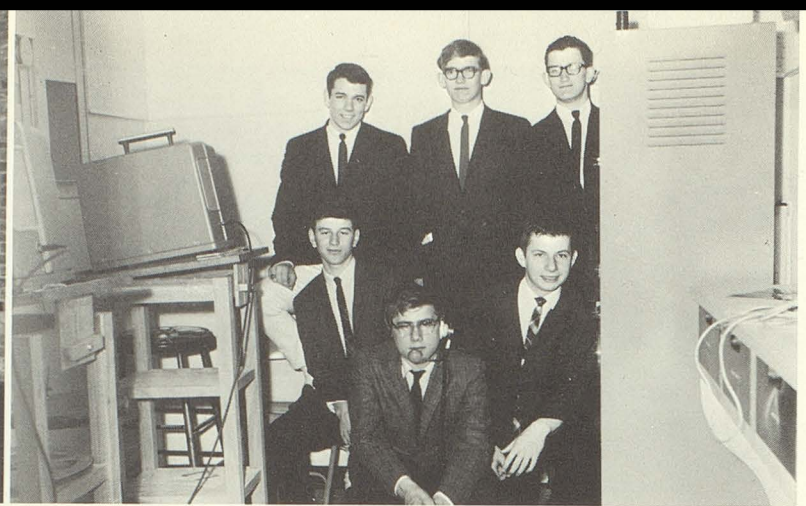

Finally, the Roman Banquet, which was held March 5, offered the citizens a respite from their labor. They enjoyed a feast consisting of chicken, shrimp, olives, deviled eggs, cheese, grapes and wine and served by slaves. Of course, each Roman had to purchase his own slave from Auctioneer Jack Brooks, and the final bids ranging from 5¢ to $3.50 substantially enriched our treasury. These expensive servants were then required to serve dinner, grovel, and push radishes across the floor with their noses. Naturally they were expected to provide the evening's entertainment. They certainly gave their all! They entertained their masters by presenting Jupiter and his court, who offered some extraordinary improvisations of jazz, poetry, and ballet. They then staged a unique rerun of Atlanta's race complete with a suitor's death, the three golden apples of Venus, and the eventual triumph of Hippomenes.

Yes, the Latin Club has indeed fulfilled its avowed aims as expressed by its motto, "Facta non verba." Undoubtedly much of the credit and thanks for this must go to Miss McIntyre, our faculty advisor. And in the future under her guidance and with an expanded membership, the Laeti Latini may be expected to accomplish even more.

During activity periods and after school, members of the audio-visual crew can nearly always be found in the physics lab or the theater practicing new techniques. Under the direction of Mr. Jacobs, the crew studies film and slide projection, film splicing, and recording. Also, a few have worked with Mr. Owen in the complexities of stage lighting.

The audio-visual crew was organized officially two years ago while the Bingham Auditorium was under construction. The purpose was to train a group of students to run the school's audio-visual aids equipment, especially in the new theater. The crew has done a remarkable job, handling assemblies, movies, dances, and several stage productions. While performing a valuable service for the school, they are also acquiring skills that will be of great value in the future.

Athletic Council

The Gould Academy Athletic Council, with our Headmaster, Edmond J. Vachon, as chairman, is responsible for many jobs pertaining to athletics. They formulate, review, and approve all interscholastic athletic schedules. This council also approves all athletic expenditures and the appointment of all athletic officials for home games.

Among their policies are promotion of school spirit, sponsoring tournaments, promoting school rallies, supervising the financial transactions of athletic contests, encouraging the support of the townspeople, and ruling on all problems pertaining to the proper and wholesome administration of athletic policies.

The council is composed of five permanent members, two ex-officio members, and four elected members.

The five permanent members are as follows: Mr. Edmond J. Vachon, Headmaster; Mr. Ordell H. Anderson, Director of Athletics; Mr. Wilbur Myers, Bursar; Mr. Richmond Roderick, Boys' Physical Education Director; and Miss Lucille Brouillard, Girls' Physical Education Director. This year the two ex-officio members who are elected by the permanent and elective members are as follows: Mr. Murray W. Thurston, Representative of the Board of Trustees; and Mr. Stanley Brown, Representative of the Alumni Association. Elective members, having one year terms of office, who have served on the 1964-65 council are the following: Mr. George Bowhay and Mr. Clifford Hillier, coaches at large; Leslie Stevens, Boys' Representative; and Jane Look, President of the Girls' Athletic Association.

For students who have fulfilled the necessary requirements, the Athletic Council bestows the letter awards. During the 1964-65 seasons of sports, the council has approved the awarding of letters to the following: Robert Bartholomew, Jack Andrews, Ray Atwood, Harlan Bean, Brian Buck, Alan Burgess, Mike Chretien, Randy Chretien, Tom Fadner, Rolfe Foxwell, Charlie Jacobs, Glen Langley, Alan Lovejoy, Steve Mahler, Ken Morse, Bob Remington, Charlie Runnels, Barry Salway, Les Stevens, Allan Swan, Bruce Taylor, Alan Twitchell (co-captain), Earl Tyler, Paul Vachon, Lee Vail, Allan Walker, Dennis Wheeler, Kevin Wight (co-captain), Daryl Young, and Greg Glines (manager) in football. Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association is the largest girls' organization on campus. Its officers for '64-'65 are as follows: Jane Look, president; Chris Sanborn, vice president; Eileen Saunders, secretary; Sallie Kinnie, treasurer. Chris Sanborn is the Student Activity Council representative for the Girls' Athletic Association. The Executive Council includes these officers and the four class representatives: Ethel Kimball from the senior class, Barbara Douglass from the junior class, Vivian Brown from the sophomore class, and Barbie Halperin from the freshman class.

Any girl attending Gould Academy may be an active member of the Girls' Athletic Association, providing she has earned ten points by participating in sports and has paid her dues. However, only managers of sports, who are elected by the participants in the sports, are members of the Girls' Athletic Association Council.

The Girls' Athletic Association is a very active organization. They decorate the campus during the Christmas season, clean up after basketball and football games, and are in charge of selling programs on Parents' Day. They also participate in Sports Day events and, win or lose, practice good sportsmanship. Each year the Girls' Athletic Association sponsors a Welcome Tea for all new girls to help them become acquainted with the organization's activities.

This organization also sponsors weekends, offering a variety of sports. On the weekend of October 30, a Halloween Party was under way; its theme was "Halloween in Foreign Lands." Included in the entertainment for the evening were dances, class skits, relay races, and a scavenger hunt. A movie was shown on the following afternoon.

The Girls' Athletic Association also sponsored a weekend this spring. To be sure, much use was made of the "tramps," tumbling mats, the ping pong table, basketballs, and card tables on the Saturday afternoon of this particular weekend. Yes, the girls' gymnasium was certainly lively!

On the 27th of May, a Girls' Athletic Association Banquet was held in the dining hall of Gehring Hall as a recognition of individual achievement during the past year or years. Faces beamed as girls learned of their new positions on the council for the following year.

On the following day, May 28, members of the G.A.A. Council left for Sebago Lake on an overnight, well-equipped with sleeping bags and food. They returned on Memorial Day with sun-baked skin and many a tall tale to relate.

The Girls' Athletic Association has had a very successful year through the contributions of time and effort by the officers and active members. But let us not forget one of the most important parts of the Girls' Athletic Association -- our advisor, Miss Brouillard. Thanks are due to all who have participated in the Girls' Athletic Association to make this year enjoyable for us all.

Football

The Gould Academy gridmen, under the able coaching of Messrs. Scott, Kailey, Roderick, and Cousins, made their debut in the Mountain Valley Conference with surprising power, amassing 129 points and permitting only 25. The Gould eleven was scored upon by only two teams, while averaging 19 points per game on offensive and 4 on defense. The team finished the season with a 6-1 record, second in the Mountain Valley Conference and third in the state. The only loss came at the hands of Mexico, the eventual conference and state champions.

After graduating fifteen players the previous year, Gould had dim hopes for a successful season; however, high team spirit, a well-balanced attack, and a stout defense provided the winning combination. The team started off rather slowly at Lyndon, Vermont but steadily improved with each game to a high pitch at mid-season. The squad was plagued by injuries throughout the season, losing several starters. The reserves, however, did an admirable job filling the gaps and gained valuable experience for future years. The offense displayed a strong aerial attack on numerous occasions, passing for six touchdowns and many yards. The defense, as the statistics indicate, was particularly stubborn, featuring the strongest pass defense in the conference.

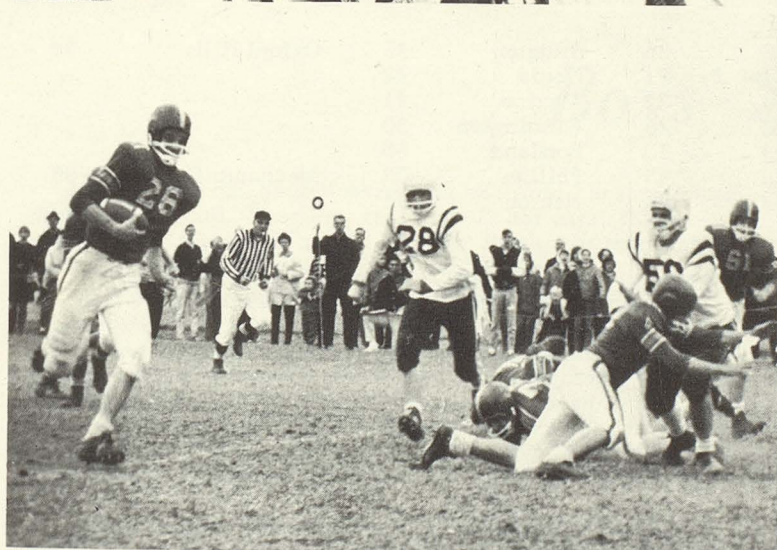

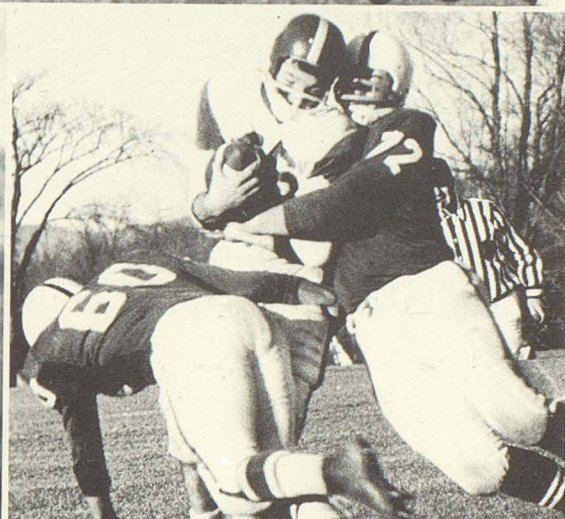

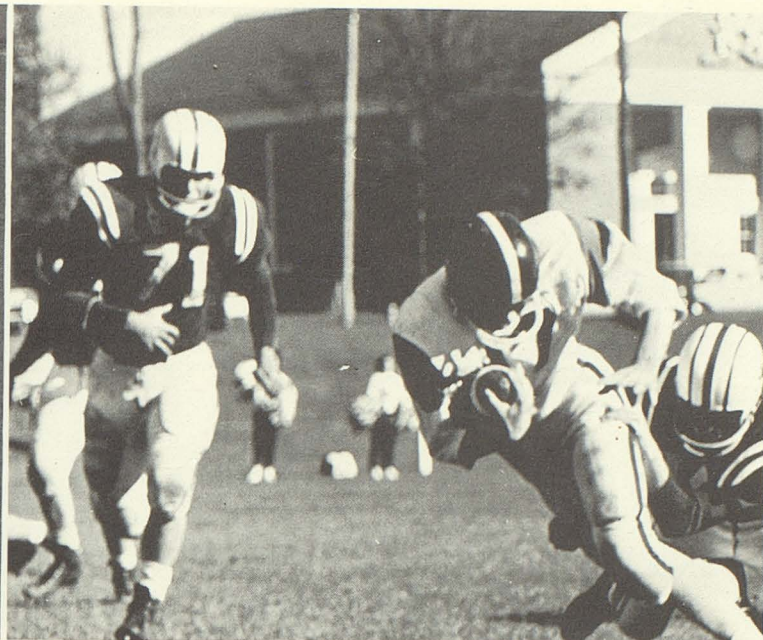

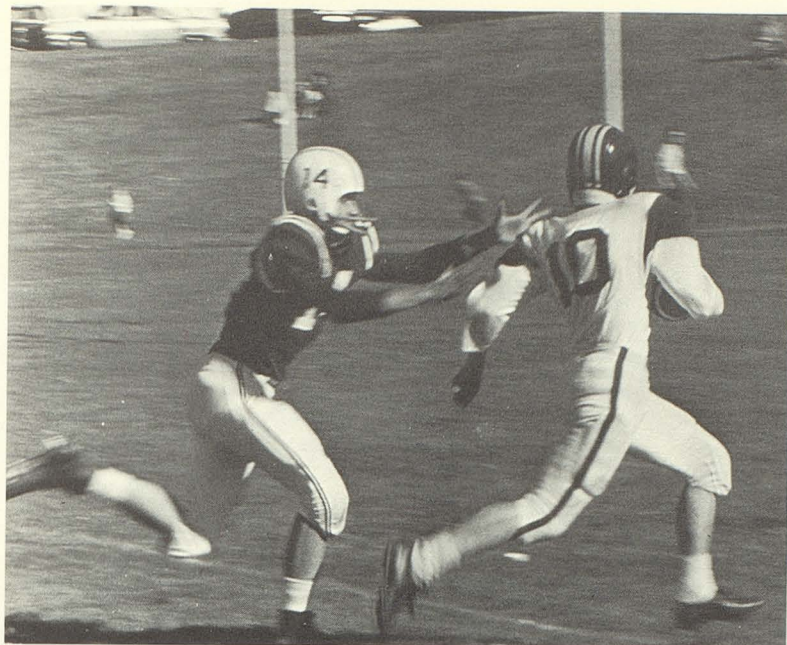

The team was considered somewhat of a question mark even after the season started. The first two victories were over teams known to be weak. At Wilton, however, the team proved itself against a strong opponent. The Mexico game was undoubtedly the biggest of the season. The aroused Huskies battled to scoreless first half, the Pintos' strong passing attack being stopped cold by the Gould defense. The second half, however, saw the strong Mexico team pull away. It was a hard game to lose, but it was lost to an outstanding team. After disposing of Jay the following week, the team moved against Farmington. The defensive line proved its worth as did the offense, which unveiled a strong running attack. The last game at Hall-Dale saw the Huskies move to an aerial attack once more, passing for three touchdowns. The running backs also gained the valuable yardage against a stout defense.

To Co-captains Alan Twitchell and Kevin Wight we offer our congratulations for leading the team through a successful season. We hope that Mike Chretien and next year's squad will be as successful in '65.

Okay, cheerleaders, let's hear it for our team. G-O-U-L-D . . . ! Our boys have been out there fighting all year, and they have a record to be proud of. In the seven interscholastic meets, they came out victorious in six, being defeated only by a strong Gorham team.

Day after day, throughout the season, we have seen our boys going through the rigorous paces of practice. They set themselves a goal, and they went out to reach it. Not enough can be said about the loyalty of their coach, Mr. Vogt. He has spent many long hours coaching these boys and giving them the confidence that makes a great team.

In the Mountain Valley Conference cross-country championship race, Gould once again emerged the powerful victor with 32 points. Other schools participating in this meet were as follows: Mexico, 47; Farmington, 48; Wilton, 108. Our Huskies didn't stop there. There was still work to do. Next in line was the State Meet, and here they came out second in a field of 15 schools. They were edged out of first place by Kennebunk that had only a four-point margin over them. From here they went to the Western Maine Conference and came out the victor. There were seven schools participating in this meet: Gould, Mexico, Bridgton, Oxford Hills, Mechanic Falls, Buckfield, and Fryeburg. The Regional Meet was still another victory to add to the list. By winning the Regional Meet, they were allowed to compete in the New England Meet held in Rhode Island. Here they took 7th place in a field of 15 schools.

Our team this past year has had much depth, and there has been much competition within the team. Damone and Everett have led the pack this year, and all of the boys have been close behind.

Boys' Ski Team

Many teams can be described with one word. In some cases that word is good. In others, it is bad. In our case, it is erratic. Mr. Kailey, the coach, and Mr. Barth, the assistant coach, will testify to this, as will the following:

On Saturday, January 16, 1965, Gould was victorious over Holderness. In the Slalom, Russ Hunter placed 2nd; Glen Langley, 3rd; Steve Moore, 6th; Gene Tebbets, 7th; Ken Remsen, 8th; and Jack Brooks, 9th. In the Jumping, Mike Bates was the winner; Rodney Swain, 4th; Captain Ray Saunders, 5th; Warren Tibbetts, 7th; Bob Remington, 9th; and Bob Seeman 11th. In the Cross-Country, Gene Tebbets was first; Ray Saunders, 2nd; Warren Tibbetts, 4th; Jack McMillin, 5th; Jack Brooks, 9th; and Dave Carter, 10th.

The next Friday, we did not fare so well. At the Edward Little Winter Carnival at Lost Valley, Gould came in third behind Rumford and the winning EL. Our best place in Giant Slalom was a 4th, Russ Hunter. Gene Tebbets was 6th; Steve Moore, 11th; Jack Brooks, 12th; and Ken Remsen, 15th. In the Slalom, Jack Brooks was 10th, Gene Tebbets, 11th, Glen Langley, 14th. Moore and Remsen did not finish. The Cross-Country and Jumping the next day were just as bad.

On January 30, Gould defeated Kennet High of Conway, N. H., at Sunday River. Langley was first in both Slalom and Giant Slalom. In the Slalom, Russ Hunter was 3rd; Steve Moore, 4th; and Jack Brooks, 5th. In the Giant Slalom, Langley was 1st; Steve Moore, 3rd; Jack Brooks, 4th; and Russ Hunter, 5th. In Jumping, Mike Bates came in 2nd; Warren Tibbetts, 3rd; Rodney Swain, 4th; and Stan McKnight, 5th.

In the State Meet held in Bethel, Gould placed second to Edward Little by a margin of 1.57 points. On Friday, February 5, Glen Langley won both Alpine events. Last year, a Gould skier held this honor also: Jim Corriveau. In the Giant Slalom, Russ Hunter, 6th, was the only other Gould skier in the top 15. In Slalom Russ Hunter was in second place, 0.3 seconds behind Langley. Brooks was 8th, and Warren Tibbetts was 16th. Gould came out of these events 0.71 points behind the leaders, Edward Little. In the Cross-Country the next day, Jack McMillan was 3rd; Warren Tibbetts, 6th; Gene Tebbets, 10th; Dave Carter, 12th; Ray Saunders, 18th; and Robert Remington, 21st. In the Jumping, Mike Bates was 2nd; Ray Saunders, 10th; Bob Remington, 18th; and Warren Tibbetts, 20th. Warren Tibbetts placed 5th in the Skimeister.

At the New Englands at North Conway, N. H., on February 12 and 13, Gould placed fourth behind Hanover, Rumford, and Edward Little. We had 374.44 points, while the winner had 381.48. Friday night after the Slalom and Cross-Country we were in first place by a slim margin of 0.56 points. In the Slalom Glen Langley was first; Steve Moore, 8th; Gene Tebbets, 22nd; and Jack Brooks, 24th. In the Cross-Country, Warren Tibbetts was 7th; Ray Saunders, 9th; Dave Carter, 13th; and Jack McMillan, 18th. The next day was our undoing. Steve Moore had the highest score, 18th, for Gould in the Giant Slalom. Mike Bates had a 10th in Jumping, and Ray Saunders was 17th.

A number of Gould skiers were chosen to represent Maine at the Junior Alpines held at Franconia Notch: Glen Langley, Steve Moore, Jack Brooks, and Russ Hunter.

Co-captains for next year are Jack Brooks and Mike Bates.

I am sure that if the members of the team have not yet resolved to be less erratic, before next fall it will be decided for them by people in higher positions.

for next year if not in won-lost percentages. Even though it was a "building" year, the team won five games and was involved in several extremely close contests. Due to lack of experience and two postponements early in the season, the team got off to a slow start. Under the able coaching of Mr. Hillier, however, the squad progressed rapidly, extending some of the best teams in the league to the limit. Two of the more memorable games were with Bridgton. The Gould five won by a single basket on their home court in the first game, then traveled to Bridgton the following night where the opposing team evened the score in overtime.

With six varsity players returning along with several junior varsity standouts who will move up into the varsity ranks, the prospects for next year are bright. I'm sure Coach Hillier and the players are looking forward to getting back on the court and reversing some of this year's scores. We wish Mike Chretien, next year's captain, and the rest of the squad the best of luck next season.

The junior varsity team had a very successful season under Mr. Cousins, winning eleven games and losing only five. The squad showed a balanced offense and a stout defense in downing many powerful opponents.

C. Jacobs '66

With only one starter returning from the previous year's squad, hopes for a winning season were dim. However, the year proved to be very successful in regard to talent developed

Baseball

The Huskies started off the season with high hopes this year. The only two positions open to upcoming ball players were second base -- filled capably by Dave Bouldry -- and right field -- a position shared by Al Swan and Barry Salway. The team swarmed onto the field April 11, for their first outside practice. Six days later they met and conquered Oxford Hills by a score of 8-0. Next on the pre-season agenda was Woodstock High. The outcome of this encounter was another victory for the Huskies by a score of 11-3. This game was climaxed by a home run by Neil Olson.

The first regular game was played in Berlin on April 27. The game was a thriller. Starter George Nickerson, however, weakened in the fourth as he gave up back-to-back home runs. The only Gould run came in when Wheeler doubled and Nickerson scored. The game ended 2-1.

The next game was at Mexico. The Mexico team managed to score the winning run in the eighth as they won 7-6.

The Huskies had a fine season as the record will show. They managed to win 7 while losing 4. The games that were lost were nothing to be ashamed of and were, perhaps, the best games of the year.

The team was a little short on long ball hitters this year, but Mike Chretien and Dennis Wheeler both hit a home run apiece, and Neil Olson got three. Neil Olson won the batting honors this year with his personal high -- at Gould -- of .431. As a conclusion the team is to be congratulated.

Next year's prospects look good. Only four seniors -- Dennis Wheeler, Randy Chretien, Al Swan and Al Twitchell -- will be leaving.

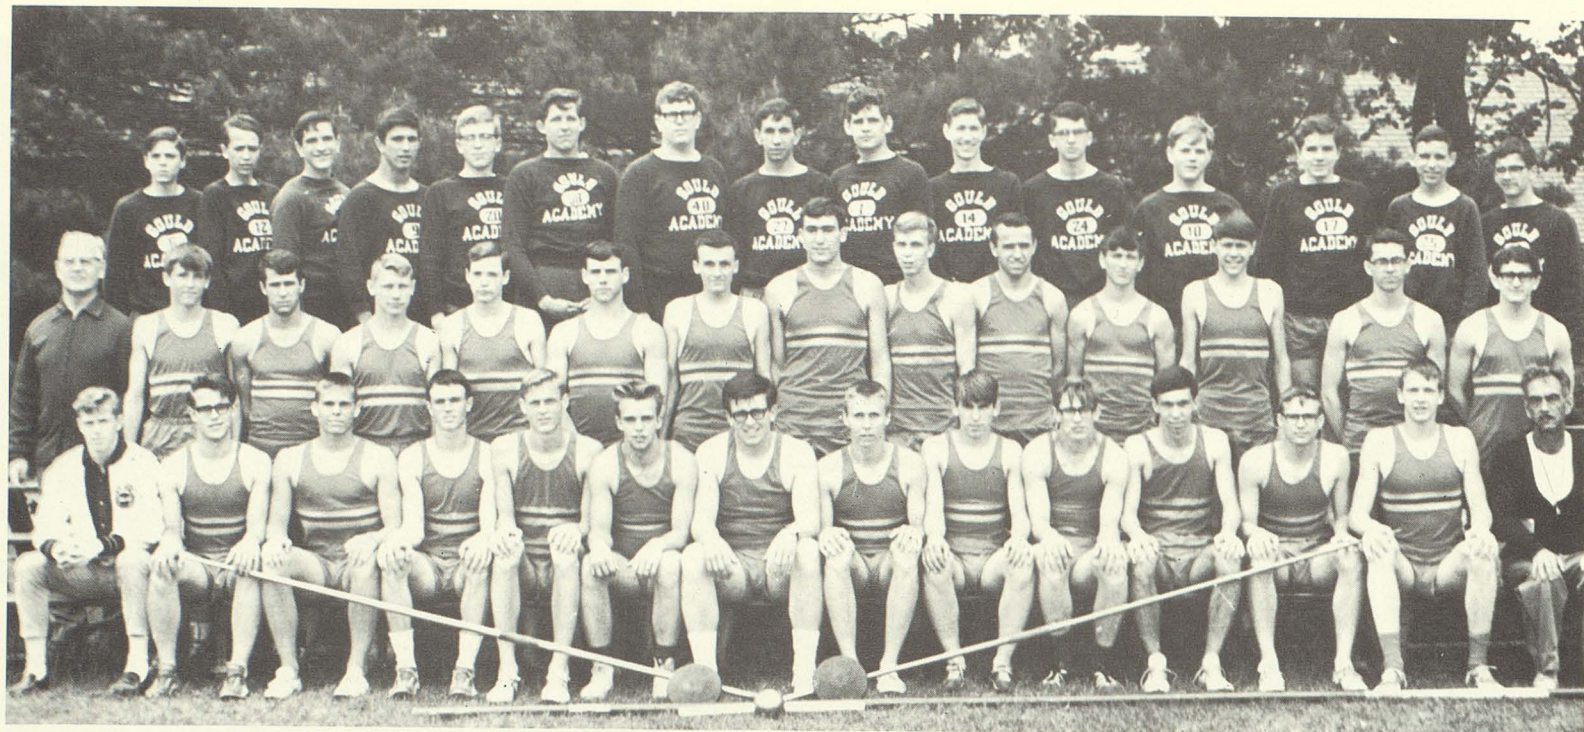

The Huskies will have their own "Million Dollar Infield" intact as Olson, Chretien, Bouldry and Buck continue to rob batters of hits. "Nick" will return and do -- we hope -- as fine a job on the mound as he did this year.

Best wishes are in order for Captain-elect Olson and Coach Bowhay for next year. Win them all, fellas!

Track

Gould's track team was hammered into shape by the able coaching of "Joe" Roderick, Mr. Scott, and Mr. Danforth during the latter part of March and the first of April. Our three "track and field mentors" had a reasonably strong nucleus on which to build, only five seniors having graduated last year. As practice progressed it looked as if Gould possessed another fine, strong team ready to do battle with any of her Western Maine rivalries. Kevin Wight managed to conquer his ailing elbow and was really heaving the shot and discus, and this year's captain, Herb Durant, "ironed out" a bad shoulder so as to accompany Kevin and also throw the javelin.

There were other aches, pains, and pulled muscles, but they seemed to be all eliminated by the day of our first meet with Rumford -- probably our strongest foe during the season. Alas, the farmer's dreams came true, and the day dawned extremely cold and wet. Scratch one meet! This brings up the fact that because of conflicting schedules Gould was not able to participate in the Andy Valley Meet as it had in the past years. The MVC (Mountain Valley Conference) Meet was held on the same weekend and as defending champions "Joe" felt that this was the meet Gould should enter. These two situations quickly cut the total number of meets for this year from seven to five -- including the State Meet at Bangor.

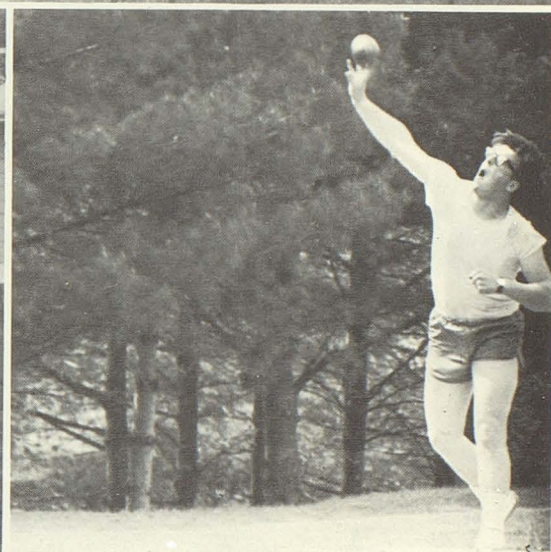

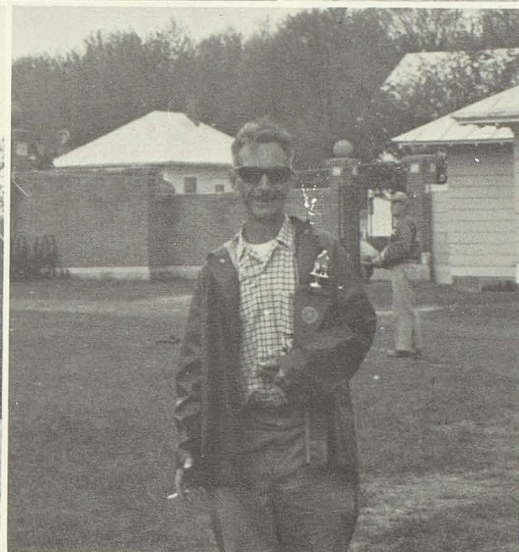

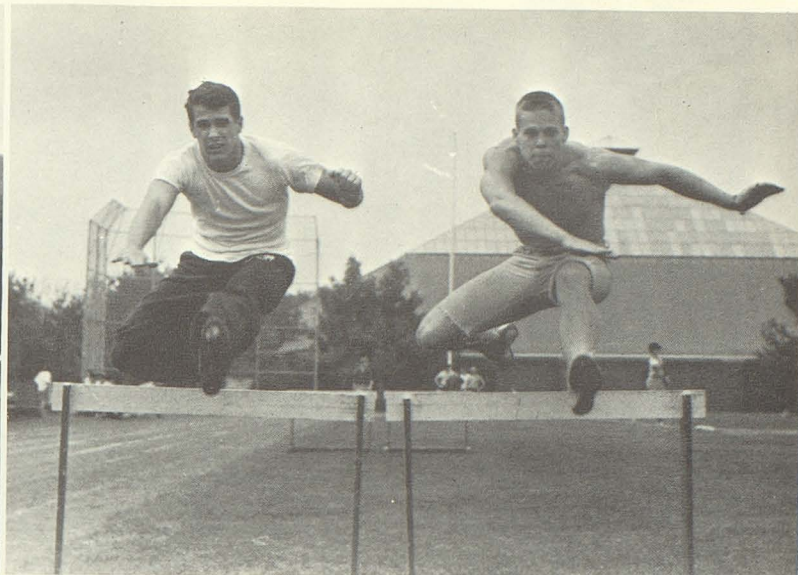

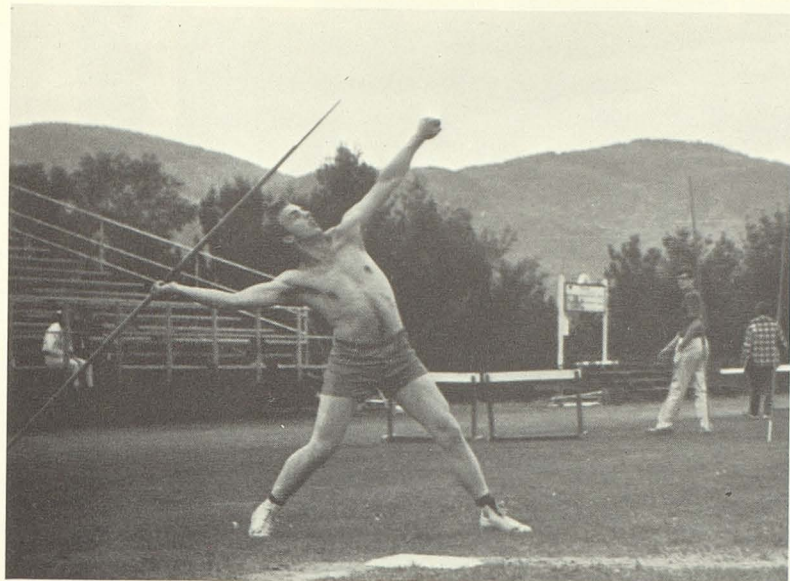

After being rained out at Rumford, Gould went on to two triangular meets: the first with Farmington and Livermore Falls, the second with Mexico and Oxford Hills. Both of these meets were won easily by Gould, the other teams lacking the depth of the Bethel squad. The following week was the Oxford County Championship and our strong foe from Rumford, Stephens High, battled us to the finish and, in the end, came out on top by only five points. The big meet, which was held at Gould, was packed with excitement from the first call of the discus to Ray Atwood's fantastic "locomotive" finish in the 880 yard relay. From this defeat Gould marched into the MVC Meet and took top honors for the second year in a row. Again the factor of good depth paid off for the Husky thin-clads.

The last meet of the year was, of course, the State Meet. As previously mentioned, the meet was held in Bangor this year and when our fellows returned with third place honors we were indeed proud of the fine work accomplished by much hard work and sacrifice. To "Joe", Mr. Scott, Mr. Danforth, and Captain Durant I extend my sincere congratulations and wish next year's squad under Captain-elect Lombard the best of luck and a good season.

Girls' Ski Team

The winter season of 1964-65 brought a new face for the Gould Academy Girls' Ski Team to put on. This year, for the first time in what seemed decades, they smiled the smile of victory. Led by their never tiring, ever cheerful co-captains: Laurel DesRoches, who, incidentally, represented us in the Jr. Nationals in Oregon where she took seventh place, and a girl who has shown remarkable improvement and success in the ski competition world in the past two years, Bari-Lee Johnson, the "heaviest girls' ski team in the state" went out and captured the State Meet title. They had a new coach this year, Mr. Julian Thompson, and no one will deny that his services were invaluable. While Uel Gardner was at one end of the course bawling out a girl, Mr. Thompson was at the top gently consoling others who had just received the same treatment. With this winning combination -- a growling instructor, a purring coach, and an enthusiastic and eager squad, how could anyone lose?

That's how the girls felt when they went into their first meet with Kents' Hill. Neither teams had had much practice, but in the end the "cardboard cruisers" came out on top. ("Cardboard cruisers" refers to members of the team who, one slippery day at practice, decided to see how Nissens' boxes worked -- with surprising results.) The next meet was a big one -- St. Mary's in the Mountains, Waynelete, Fryeburg, Kennet, and Wilton all met at Sunday River and fought it out. Again the combination worked. At this point you couldn't touch a member of the team with a ten-foot pole. But although they were pretty sure of themselves, they didn't let themselves get overconfident. There was still practice at least two nights a week with Uel and Mr. Thompson, and no one would miss that for the world! Our first meet away from home was with Kents' Hill, Rumford, and Wilton. That was a pretty tight one. The day before Jane

Howe -- a new member of the Gould squad, but one of the top racers -- fell during a practice, broke her ankle, and put herself off the boards for the rest of the year. Still mourning the loss but keeping up the fight, the girls skied hard and won again. Now they began threatening Uel for a free Sauna for all their hard work -- after all, shouldn't victors be given the best treatment possible?

But just to keep things exciting and the girls on their toes, they had to meet a challenge -- a meet with Rumford, Farmington, and Wilton at Rumford without Jane and without Laurel, who was then in another race. Even Beth Sargent moved with a little effort at this one. But it wasn't enough to put them on top -- but who's going to gripe about second place?! That was it -- the team had three wins and one loss under their belt to go into the State Meet with.

The day of the meet at Farmington was really something else. Someone came up with the theory that if one ate a lot, one would be heavier and would get through a G. S. course quicker. Remarkable enough, it worked -- or something did -- for with Edward Little ahead in the slalom and a little fear of defeat in the minds, the girls went out in the afternoon after having eaten everything in sight and, with Eileen Saunders bringing in a good second, they took the meet!

It was really quite a season for the girls -- Bari-Lee (Yaunce), Laurel (Laurelie), Mary (Stidl), Beth (Sarge), Heidi (the quiet but determined one), Eileen (giggles), Karen, Bev, Laura, Jane, Carolyn, Sam, Joyous, Becky and Ducky, the Manager -- and they're to be congratulated for their hard fruitful work.

Many other presentations were also given in Music, BLUE and GOLD, HERALD, Girls' A.A., Track, Baseball, Latin, French, and Camera Club.

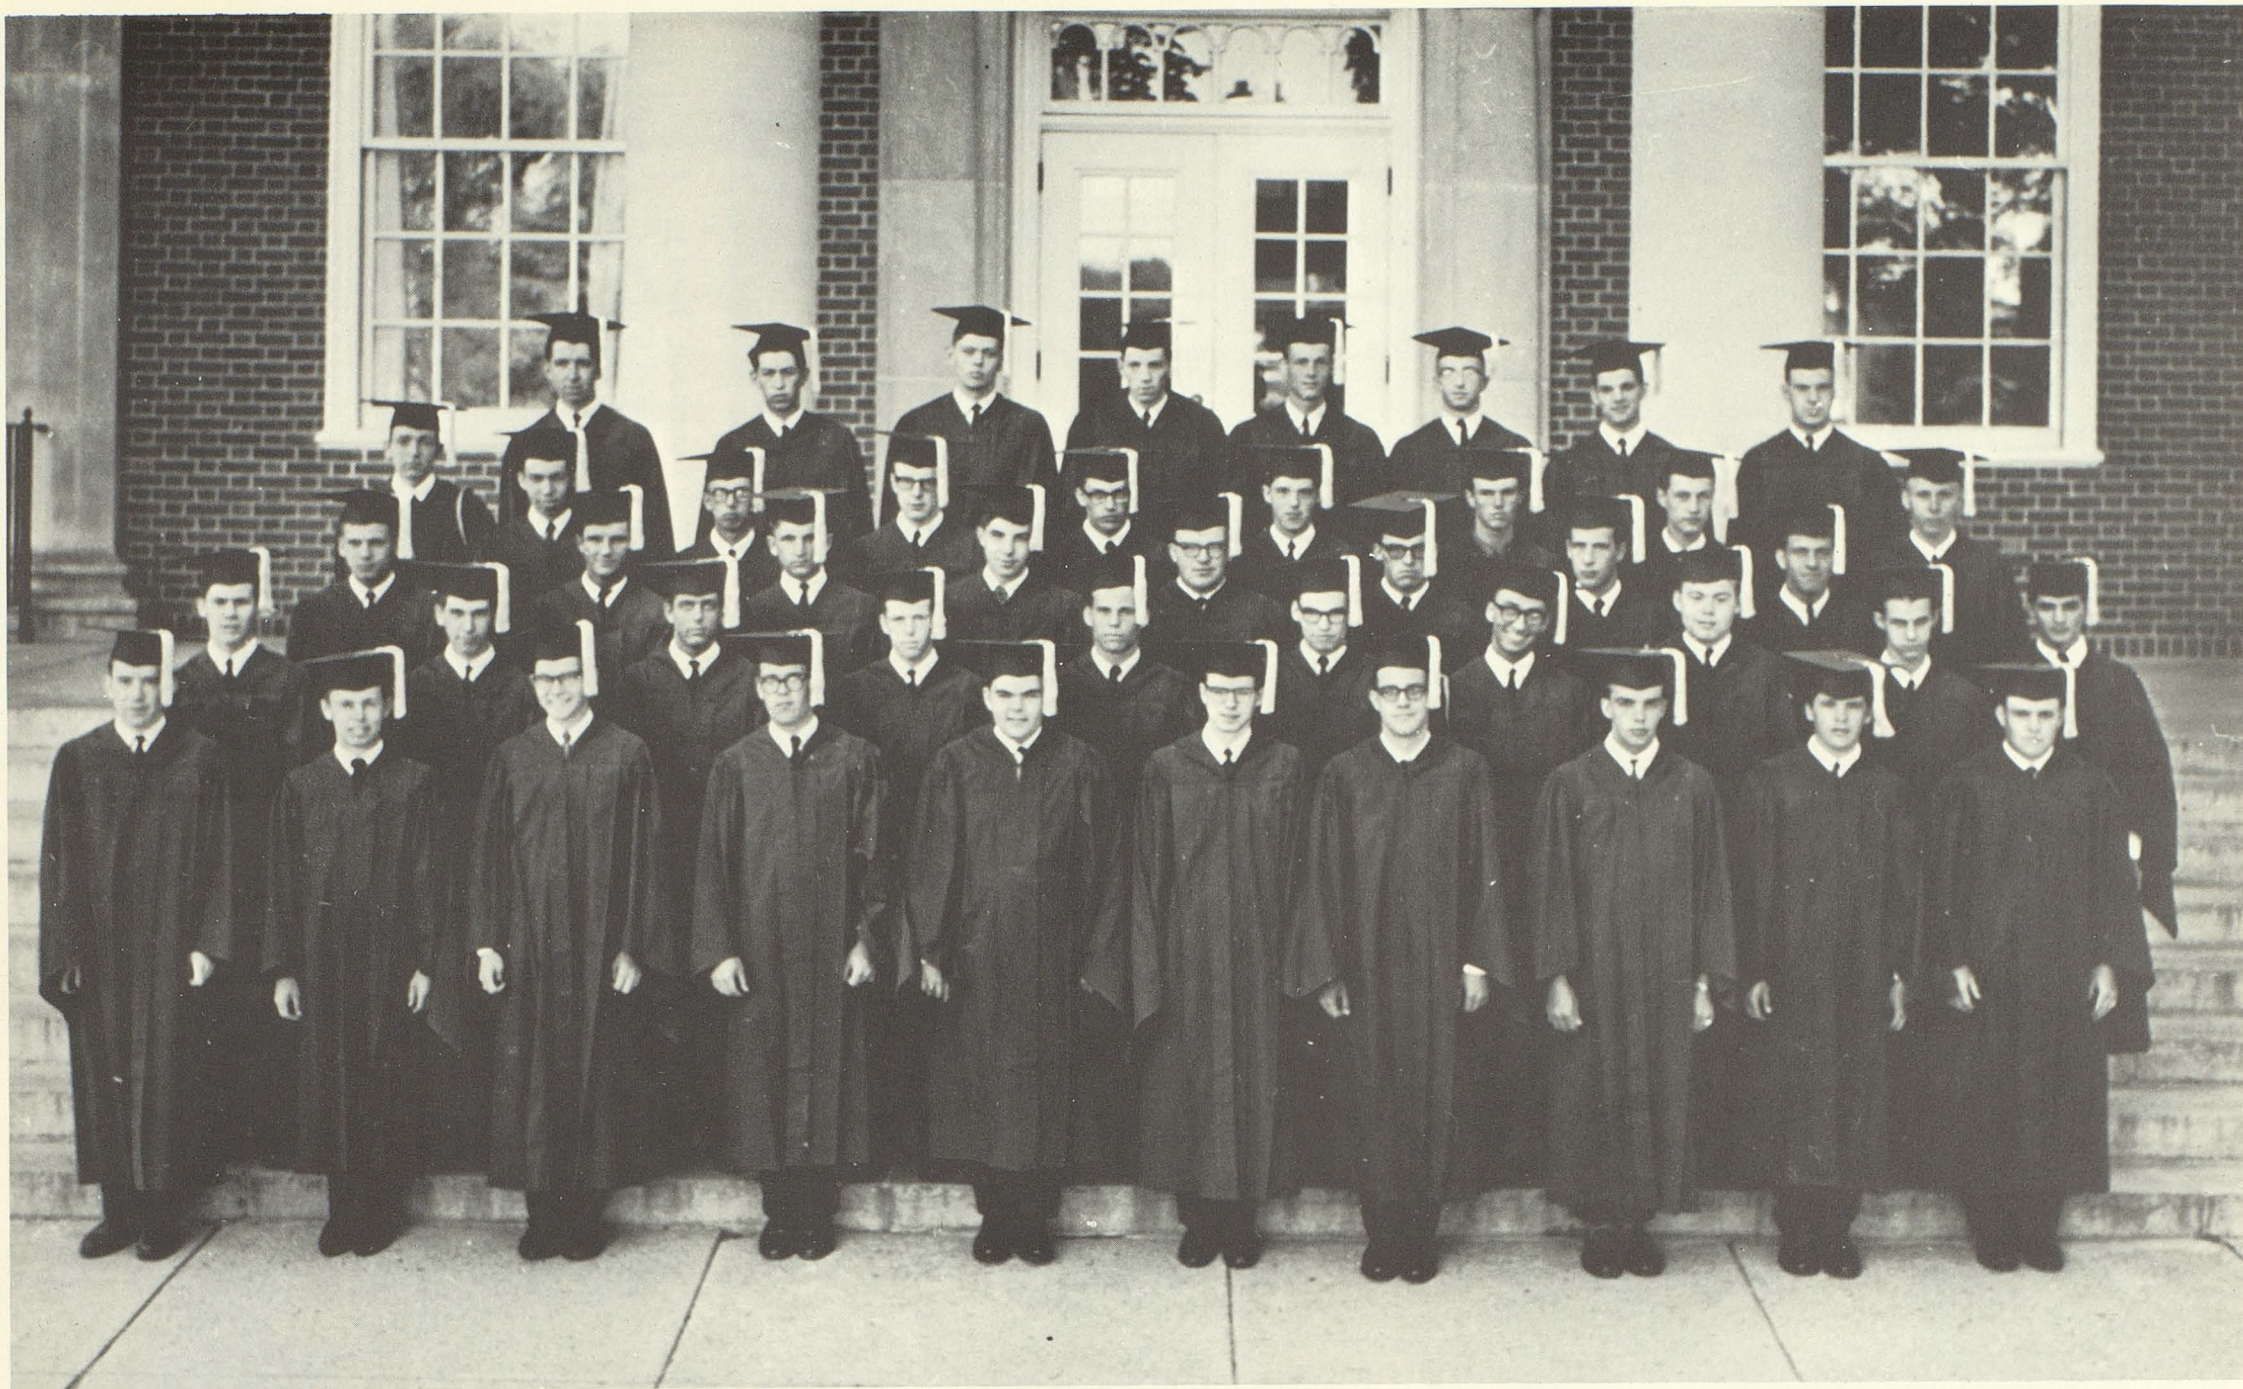

Following these exercises the seniors went to Bean's camp on Thompson Pond where they spent the day in various occupations of leisure and fun.

Alumni Day, June 12, dawned fair and warm. The speaker for the Alumni Luncheon, held in William Bingham Gymnasium, was Mr. Arnold F. McKenney, director of the Central Maine Vocational Institute. This meal was followed by the annual Alumni-Varsity baseball game at 3:00 which was finally won by the Varsity, 7-4; then came the Headmaster's Tea. The day was crowned by the Commencement Ball, also held in the gym, whose theme was the South Seas.

June 13, that long-awaited day, finally arrived. The Baccalaureate Services were held, as usual, in the West Parish Congregational Church, the speaker being the Reverend Kenneth Brookes, pastor of the South Parish Congregational Church, Augusta. His sermon was entitled, "Profit and Loss." Organist for this service and that of graduation was Mr. E. Ward Steady.

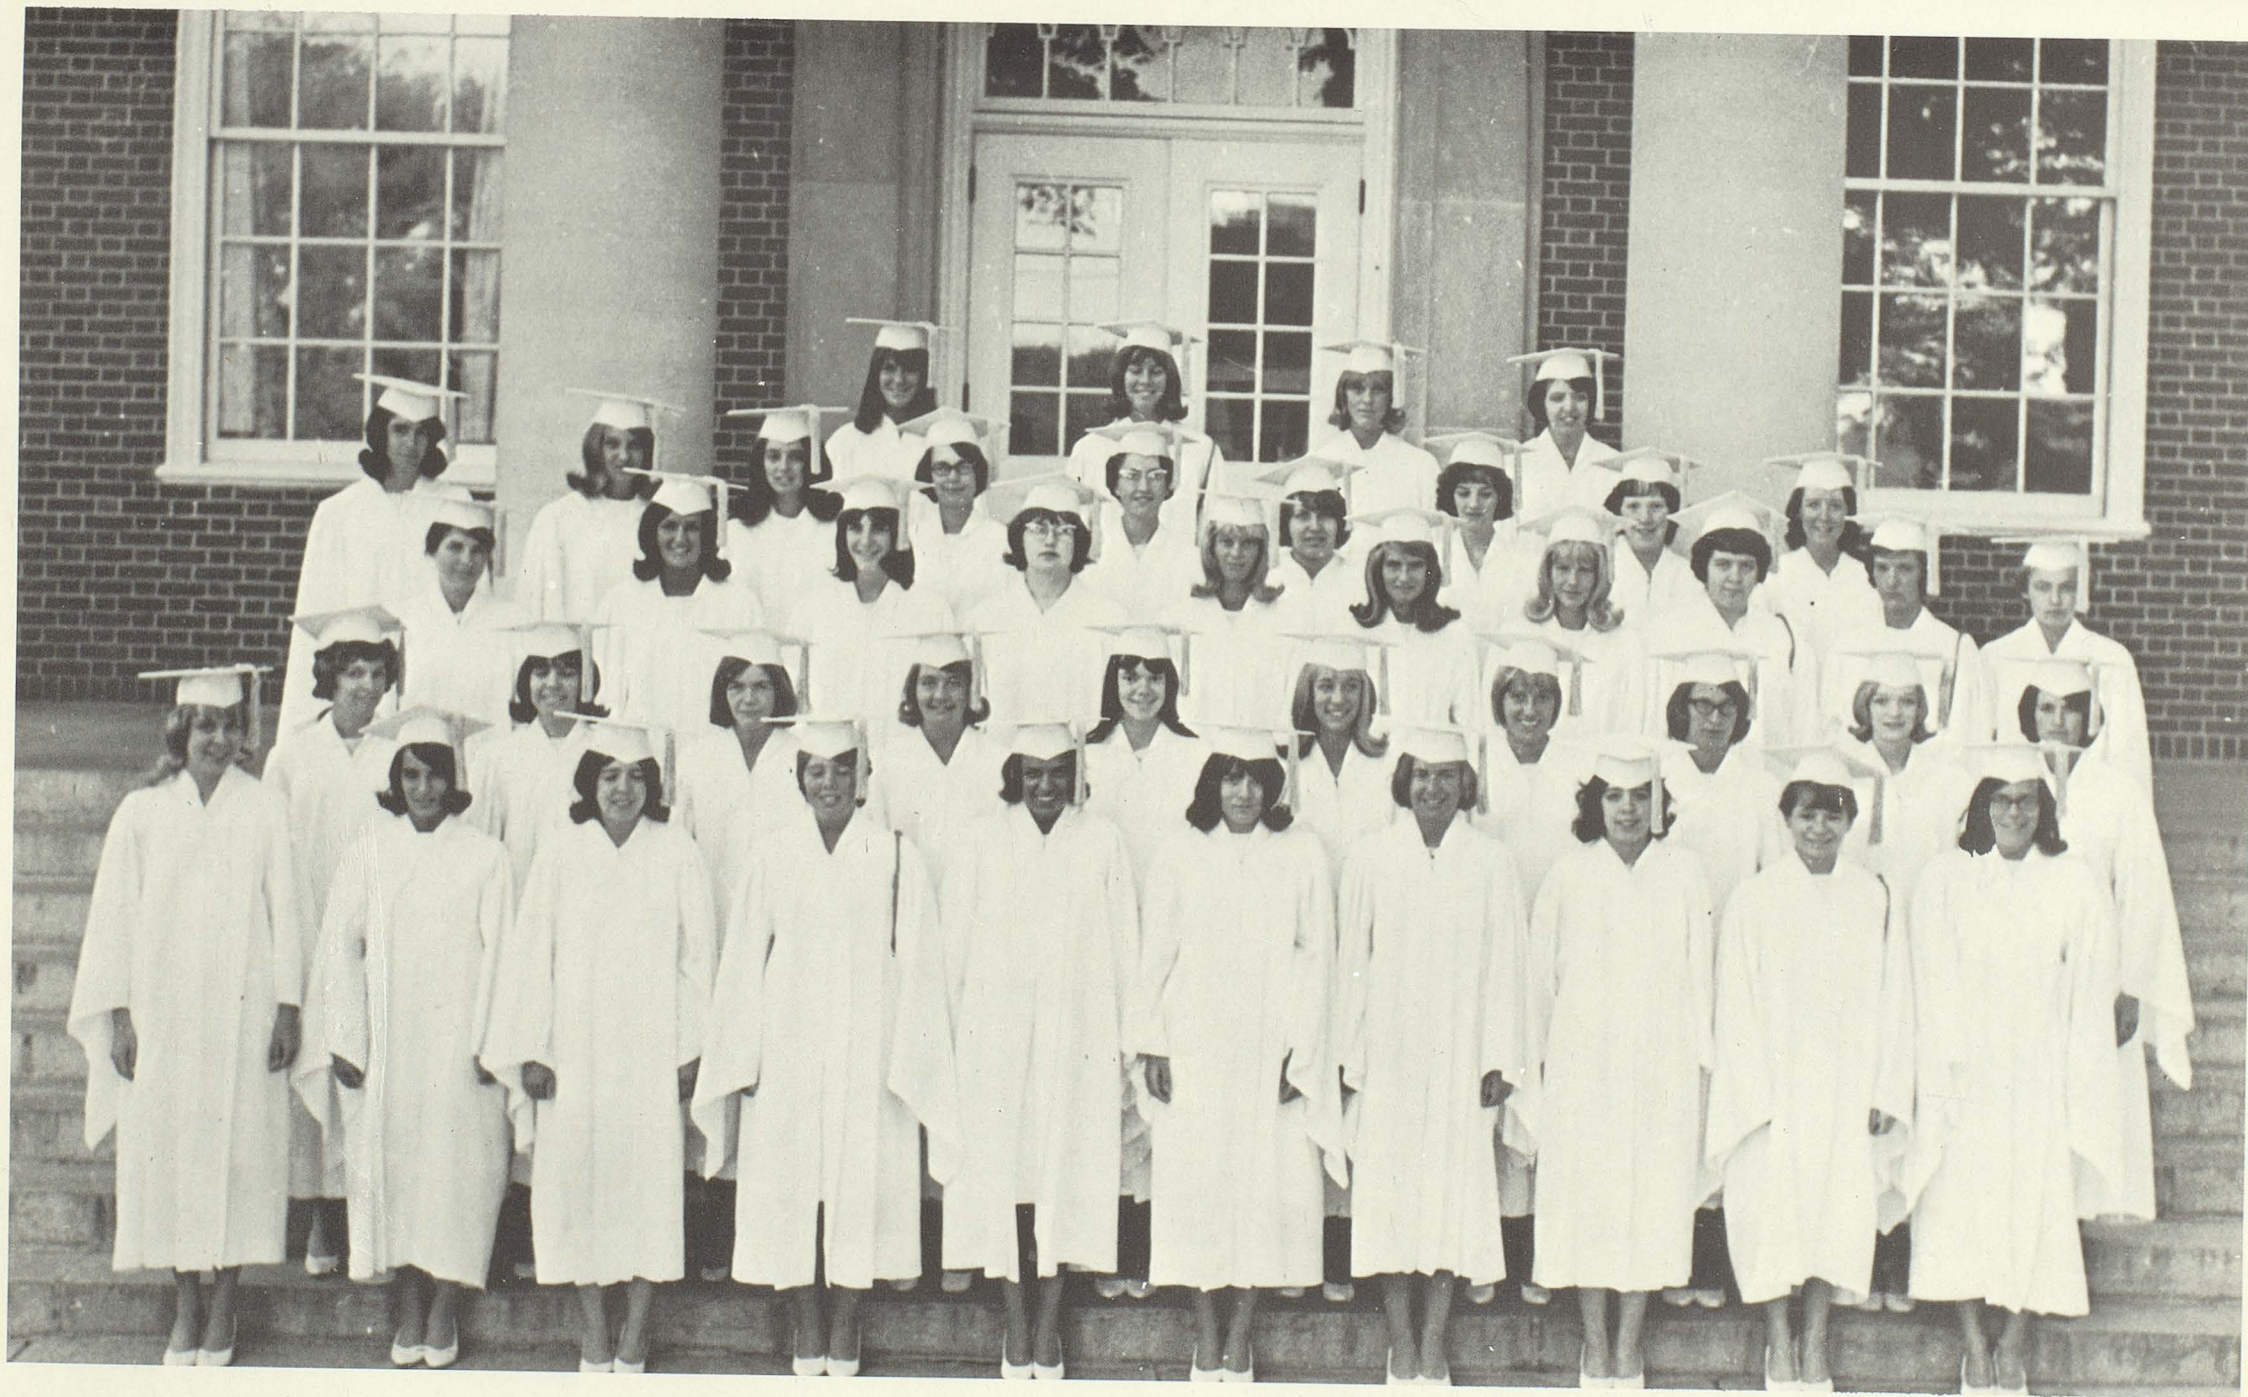

2:00 at last came. To the strains of Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance," the seniors marched slowly into the auditorium where the exercises were held because of rain. Following the invocation by the Reverend Clifford Laws, the Glee Club sang Richard Rodgers' "You'll Never Walk Alone." Geneva Kimball then gave the salutatory address, her theme being, "Christian Concern for Others." Dr. Sidney W. Davidson introduced the commencement speaker, Dr. Robert E. L. Strider, President of Colby College in Waterville, whose theme was on the values derived from life. After this, the Glee Club sang "Halls of Ivy" and Ethel Kimball presented her valedictory essay, "Mountains to Climb." Next was the announcement of honors by Mr. Vachon and the awarding of diplomas by Dr. Davidson. The recessional played by Mr. Steady ended memorable school days for the boys and girls comprising the Class of 1965.
